

ERIN'S AIRS

Will Soothe and Smooth the Trails of Irish Hearts.

Religious Celebration of St. Patrick's Day Will Occur Tomorrow.

Musical And Lecture Will Follow at Macanley's a Week Later.

JUDGE O'DOHERTY WILL SPEAK

The Louisville members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians invite all friends of the Irish cause to join them in their two celebrations of St. Patrick's day—the religious celebration tomorrow, and the social celebration a week from tomorrow. The religious celebration will be held at St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning, when all the members of the four divisions and of the Ladies' Auxiliary will approach holy communion.

The Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin will celebrate the mass and preach an appropriate panegyric of Ireland's apostle. The Hibernians will have no celebration on Thursday, March 17, but expect a crowded house on Palm Sunday night, when the social observance will be held. It will be in the nature of a musical and lecture. Attorney Thomas Walsh, President of Division I, will preside as Chairman during the evening. The County Board with the assistance of State President George J. Butler has arranged the following programme:

Introductory address—Thomas Walsh.
Soprano solo—Mrs. T. Al Barrett.
Soprano solo—Miss Effie McDonnell.

Tenor solo—R. H. Eileen.
Bass solo—John J. Maloney.
Monologue—David J. Flynn.
Vocal quartette—Miss Effie McDonnell, soprano; Miss Imelda Sheen, contralto; John J. Flynn, tenor, and David J. Maloney.

Lecture—Judge Matt O'Doherty. The musicals will be one treat and the lecture of Judge O'Doherty will be another treat. Judge O'Doherty visited Ireland and England last summer, and made a close study of the political situation in Ireland and Great Britain at close range. He has a message to deliver from our Irish friends at home regarding the present crisis and he proposes to deliver it. Judge O'Doherty is always interesting and more particularly so when talking on Irish affairs. Thomas Walsh, who will preside, is President of Division I, A. O. H., and has been for years a leading light at the Louisville bar.

Mrs. Fred Harig, Jr., who is to be the accompanist and pianist, is one of the most accomplished musicians in Louisville. She is a native of Dublin, Ireland, and was thoroughly trained in music before she came to America. Mrs. Harig knows the music of Erin and knows how to play it. Judge O'Doherty is always interesting and more particularly so when talking on Irish affairs. Thomas Walsh, who will preside, is President of Division I, A. O. H., and has been for years a leading light at the Louisville bar.

Mrs. T. Al Barrett, who was Mrs. Josephine Hoertz, is one of the most popular soprano soloists Louisville has ever had. She has never failed the Irish when she was called on. This year she will sing something that will be appreciated. David J. Maloney is a popular bass soloist and his work is always appreciated. Miss Sheen, John J. Flynn, and Miss McDonnell are all well known entertainers, and their best efforts will be put forward at the St. Patrick's day entertainment.

Tickets will be sold at twenty-five cents and thirty-five cents. These tickets are on sale with John M. Mulloy, 212 West Market street; Thomas J. Keane's drug store, Sixth and Oak streets; Thomas Keane's, 1225 West Market street, and at D. J. Coleman's, 1653 Portland avenue.

Prof. Dennis Collins and his orchestra will render appropriate Irish melodies during the evening, and the Executive Committee has ordered nothing but Irish melodies with a preference for the Tom Moore brand.

NEW ALBANY RESIDENT DEAD.

Michael J. Goulding, one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of New Albany, died at his home, 605 West Market street, on Monday morning, his funeral, which took place from Holy Trinity church, on Wednesday morning, was attended by many old and sorrowing friends. Mr. Goulding was a native of Ireland, but had lived in New Albany fifty years. Two sons, James and John Goulding, well known coal merchants, survive him.

ATTACK OF BRAIN FEVER.

Cary R. Osterman, a popular young man, formerly of this city, is seriously ill of brain fever at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington. Mr. Osterman belongs to a well known Catholic family of Louisville and is a brother of Guy and Leo Osterman. He went to Lexington about a year ago as manager of the cigar business of Hummer & Nolan. He was taken to the hospital by friends rapidly and is highly regarded in the Bluegrass capital. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Osterman and little daughter have gone to Lexington to care for the sick man. While his illness is of a serious nature, his ultimate recovery is expected. Mr. Osterman married Miss Loda, of this city, and she, too, is at her husband's bedside.

DELEGATES CHOSEN.

State Councils Select Their Best Men For Hard Work.

Arrangements for the Supreme convention of the Catholic night of America, which is to be held at Nashville in May, are being rapidly completed. In several of the larger cities "Nashville Clubs" are being organized. Louisville expects to send a large delegation, including its two uniform rank companies. The delegates from Kentucky to the Supreme body are Harry Veenema, of Louisville, and Thomas M. Gleeson, of Covington. The delegates from the various States thus far announced are:

Alabama—E. G. Droaper.
Arkansas—William Bauer, Joseph H. De Clerk.
California—Rev. W. J. Howlett.
Colorado—Daniel Ferguson.
District of Columbia—George R. Repetti.
Illinois—Charles F. Pieh, Charles Eversmann.
Indiana—John M. Funke, F. Wisniewski.
Iowa—L. H. Kurtz.
Kentucky—Harry Veenema, Thomas M. Gleeson.
Louisiana—J. J. McLoughlin, Dr. C. M. Menville.
Massachusetts—Charles H. Finn.
Minnesota—Joseph Willy.
Mississippi—James A. Grillo.
Missouri—Joseph G. Beckmann, Henry Siemer.
Nebraska—Very Rev. Joseph Ruesing.
New York—John P. McDouell, John Hallihan.
Ohio—J. J. Dermody, John G. Rorer.
Oregon—Rev. A. Hillebrand.
Pennsylvania—Thomas McComiskey, William Early.
Rhode Island—John Curran, Hon. James Mullen.
Tennessee—John N. Selle.
Texas—Rev. P. J. Clancy, K. J. Kilvin.

VERSATILE POET.

Something About Daly Who Sings in Various Keys.

During the last few years the exchange editor has borrowed, begged or stolen the verse of T. A. Daly, and the readers of the various papers have enjoyed everything from his pen, yet few know anything of the personality of the poet.

His name in full is Thomas Augustine Daly, the son of John Anthony Daly and Annie Victoria Duckett. He was born in Philadelphia, May 28, 1871. After attending the parochial schools in the Quaker City he passed through Villanova College and Fordham University. In 1906 he was elected President of the American Press Humorists. Mr. Daly is a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Pen and Pencil Club and the Poor Richard Club, of Philadelphia. It has been given to few writers of verse to show such versatility as distinguishes his work, and still fewer to be so uniformly entertaining, and serious, and forthright in his inheritance as a son of the Gael, the truly human touch of nature, for the pulse of real feeling whether the inspiration be grave or gay. What he has already written whets the desire for more, and happily he is at an age when there is every assurance of further proof of the productivity of his entertaining pen.

RIGHT MOVE.

Postmaster in New York Has Splendid Idea.

More Postmasters like Mr. Morgan of New York, would be of great benefit to the world. A sympathetic attitude against the silly postal card is being waged by the authorities in several of the larger cities of the United States, according to announcement by Postmaster Morgan. Replying to a committee from the Ancient Order of Hibernians, which lodged a protest against the sending of offensive St. Patrick's day postcards, Mr. Morgan said:

"People may as well understand that it is only a waste of time and money to try to indulge in the sending of silly postal cards through the United States mails. Any card or other matter that is vulgar or an insult to any person or race will be destroyed whenever it reaches this office. The office has destroyed thousands of them already this season. Hundreds of thousands were destroyed last year."

BISHOP FOR WINONA.

From Rome comes the news that the Very Rev. Pius P. R. Heffron has been appointed Bishop of Winona, Minn. For some time past Father Heffron has been one of the professors at St. Paul Seminary.

BUSY SIXTY-NINTH.

Incident to the celebration of St. Patrick's day in New York City, the Sixty-ninth Regiment will parade before mass at the Cathedral in the afternoon. In the afternoon it will take part in the street parade of all the Irish societies of the great metropolis. In the evening the regiment will hold a concert and ball in its armory.

DEMOCRACY

Owes Its Origin in America to a Child of the People.

Andrew Jackson, Lawyer, Soldier, Statesman and Great President.

Iron Will and Indomitable Courage Overcame All Obstacles.

WAS SON OF PILGRIM PARENTS

Democracy, that is American Democracy, owes its origin and its name to an Irish-American, Andrew Jackson. The orphan of an Irish pilgrim, he sowed the seed that would strengthen the American nation. With his heroic character he molded the path of duty and left a name as imperishable as the republic which he loved.

In 1767, amidst the ancient forests of one of the Carolina's, there was born a child of an Irish emigrant, one of the rarest souls in the annals of American history. His name was Andrew Jackson. At that time America was nothing but a body of dependent colonists, scarcely two million in number, scattered along an immense coast with no army, navy or police. England was attempting to control America with the aid of military force. Jackson grew up in the midst of the conflict with England, and the first great political truth that reached his heart was that all men are born free and equal; and from his mind's eye he could gleam his country's independence.

Valor was a natural trait with him. At fourteen he shouldered his musket and marched to the front. His father had passed away. The Revolution swept his two young brothers into eternity, and grief sent his mother to the grave. When peace came he was alone, with no kindred, no inheritance, but the qualities that nature had bestowed upon him.

America was emancipated from English rule, and the Federation which she had formed gave way to a constitution, the grand event in history. When the republic was formed this youth, with a heroism that braved all dangers, filled with hope for the future, went forth to the valley of the Mississippi, to lay the foundation of society and to institute a free State. Many hardy sons there were that followed the same course. They had the spirit of freedom. If they lacked the dead-letter erudition. They had the living ideas of the age and made their home in the wilderness. At this time European society was being rocked to pieces, and a scene was being enacted in Tennessee, where the children of the wilds were to rear a structure of government for the peaceful abode of American freemen. Foremost among the brave sons of Tennessee was Andrew Jackson—modest, bold, determined—demanding nothing for himself and shrinking from nothing that his heart approved.

In twenty-five days the people of Tennessee created a fabric of government, which in its essence formed was to last for all time. These men were confident of truth, loved humanity, had faith and reverence. In the simplicity of wisdom they constructed a government, acting under influences of which they were not conscious. They embodied their faith in God, and in the immortal nature of man. They gave the right of suffrage to every freeman. They declared for freedom of speech and of the press. They set forth that all might worship God according to conscience. Freedom and equality of elections was demanded. They declared that every legislator should take solemn oath never to do anything that would lessen the rights of the people. In this constitution they set forth sublime truths, and the foremost among their law-givers was that genius—Andrew Jackson. They sent him to Washington as their Representative and later to the Senate. He was then scarcely more than thirty years of age. He had risen high in the councils of the nation and became the friend and companion of Jefferson.

Jackson had confidence in humanity, as his votes and opinions showed. This child of the woodland was always firm on the side of liberty. He never doubted the right of man to the free development of his powers. He did not think the people needed a guardian over them. And to make popular institutions endure he did not think it necessary to have any authority outside of the popular will. He was attached to the doctrine of popular power and the policy that favored it.

Jackson was elected Major General of the militia of Tennessee; he resigned his place in the United States Senate to become a Judge on the bench of the Supreme Court of his State, and later became President of the United States. With great natural powers and the characteristics of the backwoodsman, Jackson was never modest. He had a will of iron and never shrank from any duty, whether it required physical or moral courage. Clearly did he perceive the beautiful system of the republic. He saw organized life in all parts of the body politic—the nation with its power, the State with its government and the town with its rule. He knew that our Government was like organized life in every part of the human system, each organ performing its own function, one not overlapping the other. He saw that harmony and prosperity would come if each part performed its own function.

WORTHY WOMEN

Chosen as Officers and as Chairmen by Catholic Club.

The Catholic Woman's Club held its annual election of officers on Monday. The new officers are Miss Maggie Judge, President; Mrs. Charles Smith, First Vice President; Mrs. Minnie Bosche, Second Vice President; Mrs. D. F. Murphy, Third Vice President; Mrs. Mary Cross, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Katie Newman, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. B. D. Mattingly, Treasurer.

The heads of the new committees are Mrs. D. F. Murphy, Membership; Mrs. Elsie Newman, Luncheon; Miss Katie Collins, Library; Mrs. Emma Ropke, Entertainment. Mesdames Minnie Bosche, John Buschmeyer, Edward O'Connor and Misses Mollie and Katie Cummins, Class Committee; Mrs. B. J. Jansen and Mrs. Mary Cross, House.

Miss Maggie Judge has been President of the club since its inception. She has given her time and money generously to make it successful, and her re-election was a foregone conclusion.

BE COURTEOUS

When the Census Enumerator Visits Your Home.

On April 15 the work of taking the census of the United States and her colonies in Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico will begin. This census is taken every ten years and is for the purpose of obtaining statistical information concerning the population and resources of the country.

It is the duty of every citizen to answer all questions on the census schedules applying to him and the family to which he belongs. The purpose of these "inquiries" is to secure statistical information regarding the population and resources of the country. Every man and woman ought to take pleasure in replying to the questions propounded by the census enumerators. A heavy penalty will be imposed upon those who do not answer the questions propounded in the Government schedule.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Lawrence Ryan, who died at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. J. Connelly, 136 North Fourth street, on Saturday afternoon, took place from the Cathedral on Monday morning. The deceased was only eighteen years old, but leaves many friends to mourn his loss.

John T. McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGrath, died at the family residence, 2706 Fourth avenue, on Tuesday evening, and his funeral took place from Holy Name church on Friday morning. The young man was liked by all who knew him, and his parents have the sympathy of many friends.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Doyle, who died at the family residence, 1624 Ash street, on Saturday morning, took place from St. Elizabeth's church on Monday morning and was attended by many old friends. Before her marriage she was Miss Ida A. Kinberger. The deceased was beloved by a large circle of friends.

Many mourning friends of Mrs. Hannah Sennion, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Connelly, 136 North Fourth street, on Tuesday evening, and his funeral took place from Holy Name church on Friday morning. The young man was liked by all who knew him, and his parents have the sympathy of many friends.

The funeral of Edward McElliot, a retired grocer, who died at his home, 1135 South Brook street, took place from St. Michael's church on Tuesday morning. Many old friends of the family attended the requiem mass. The deceased was fifty-five years old and was a native of Ireland. He settled in Louisville forty years ago, and lived here the remainder of his life. Death resulted from paralysis. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary McElliot, and three sons, Deputy Jailor Jerry McElliot and James and John McElliot.

REMEMBER PRIEST'S BIRTHDAY.

The Rev. Father Francis Feiten celebrated the thirty-eighth anniversary of his birthday on March 6. He had not intended to have a celebration, but many of his friends called to congratulate him and to wish him many more years of able service. They also brought gifts to show their appreciation of his friendship. One of the values highly is a handsome gold watch chain, emblematic of the Knights of Columbus. Among other gifts were a pair of gold cuff buttons ornamented with diamonds, a silk umbrella, handkerchiefs and other useful articles. Father Feiten has done great work during the eleven years that he has been pastor of St. Augustine's church, but his labors are being appreciated.

REDMOND

Holds Whip Hand and Will Force Liberal Government to Yield.

Home Rule For Ireland Seems Certain Now Unless All Signs Fall.

Lloyd-George in the Breach When Asquith Fell Down.

TRUCE UNTIL AFTER EASTER

John E. Redmond's bold stand against the propositions of Premier Asquith was not only beneficial to the cause of home rule for Ireland, but it caused Lloyd-George, the Chancellor and author of the budget, to jump into the breach and save, at least temporarily, the Government from dissolution. E. P. O'Connor, M. P., one of Redmond's ablest lieutenants, says:

"Asquith's proposals were all right, and his speech, though not free of his characteristic faults, was satisfactory. The Premier has now announced the almost complete adoption of the tactics pressed upon him by the Irish party for weeks and steadily resisted by Asquith and some of his colleagues. Instead of pushing the budget to the front by an immediate disastrous collision with the Irish party, the Premier weakened at the last moment and announced that the veto power of the House of Lords would be given first consideration. He also stated that resolutions would be given first consideration. It is also stated that resolutions would be proposed in both the Houses of Commons and Lords that guarantees would be asked from the King, and if refused the Ministry would resign."

"Mr. Redmond, while acknowledging the large approach of Asquith to the Irish demands, pointed out certain omissions and made his vote that evening on the proposal of Asquith to take the time of the House dependent on satisfactory answers to the questions, Lloyd-George at this juncture made an impassioned speech, which saved the old situation. He made even plainer than the circumlocutionary words of Asquith that the Government would propose and press forward the veto resolutions in both houses, would ask for guarantees without delay, and would resign if the guarantees were refused."

According to all accounts Balfour, the leader of the opposition, fumed. One reason says it is because he was ill, but the general impression prevails that he did not want to help defeat the Liberal Government, when he would be called upon to form a new Cabinet. This disinclination to take office by Balfour was aggravated at the moment by the dread that the vastness of the deficit created by the rejection of the budget by the Lords and the accumulation of unpaid taxes would enable the protectionist wing of his followers to force him into immediately proposing high tariff, to which he is strongly opposed.

The final result of the eventful session of Monday night of last week was that neither the Tories nor the Irish opposed the Government's resolution and it was carried without division. Ireland in the meantime watches with exuberant delight the commencing position of her leader and representatives in the Imperial Parliament and shares Redmond's triumph in forcing the Irish tactics on the British Ministry. Meetings are held in all parts of Ireland to pledge confidence in Redmond and subscriptions are pouring in from Irish populations from all parts of the world.

The Irish members still adhere to the policy of veto before the budget, and this is their line of reasoning. "If you begin your campaign by again sending the budget up to the House of Lords, are you not beginning by a surrender? For of course if these gentlemen had the power to reject last year they will have the power to reject this year as well. O, but they won't reject the budget," say a good many people. Possibly not, but how do you know?

"And anyhow, whether they reject the budget or not is not the question. It is, on the contrary, a misunderstanding of the question, a fatal evasion of the issue. For, by sending your budget to them, you admit their power to accept or reject, and whether they do one thing or the other does not give back to you that great position which you have won by the verdict of the nation, the verdict that they have no right to reject the budget. It is, on the contrary, restoring to the House of Lords the power which the nation commanded you never to allow to them again."

For the present at least all danger of the dissolution of the Government has been avoided. The truce which will give a breathing spell to Parliament until after Easter is welcome to all parties as well as to the country at large. The Government now is committed to a single chamber policy despite the contrary opinion of several members of the Cabinet. The dissenters' objections have been silenced for the present at all events by the life or death threats of the Irish and radical allies. In the meantime the Unionists will bring forward at the earliest moment a genuine scheme for the reconstruction of the Lords, and the majority of the Peers earnestly hope that Rosebery's plan, which he will introduce on March 14, will be such that the Unionists will be able to give it wholehearted support. Nothing is known of any of its details, but it is assumed it will provide at least a semi-democratic house, wherein none will be entitled to sit by a hereditary claim alone. It is expected that there will be some provision for life Peers and about half of the members will be elected either by a direct vote or by the local houses, such as the county councils, their membership to continue any twelve years.

LAETARE MEDAL

This Year Will Be Presented to Dr. Maurice Egan.

The Laetare medal, the highest decoration of honor for a lay member of the Roman Catholic church in the United States, will be presented this year to Dr. Maurice Francis Egan, the American Minister to Denmark. The medal is a decoration presented by the ecclesiastical authorities of Notre Dame University, and is conferred upon a man or a woman who has achieved distinction in art, literature, science or philanthropy. Dr. Egan will receive the distinction for distinguished services to Catholic literature and education. Dr. Egan first entered the United States diplomatic service in 1907, when he was appointed Minister to Denmark. For twenty years prior to that time he had been engaged as a professor of literature and had published several important works on literary criticism. He has also won fame as a novelist and poet. It was on account of the wholesome and elevating character of his works that he was selected by Notre Dame to be the recipient of the Laetare medal.

The medal takes its name from the title given the fourth Sunday of Lent, the day when the announcement of the award is always made. It corresponds to the decoration of the Golden Rose, which is conferred by the Pope every year on some member of the nobility of Europe. The medal is a large disk of gold, richly enameled, and bearing in relief some design suited to the profession of the recipient. A motto in Latin, "Truth is Mighty and Shall Prevail," appears in black enamel surrounding the design. Accompanying the medal is an address of award printed on silk. The Laetare medal was first given in 1863. It then was conferred on the historian, John Gilmary Shea.

TALL CARDINAL

Will Represent Pope at the Eucharistic Congress.

According to press dispatches from Rome it is announced that Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli has been appointed as special legate of the Vatican to the Eucharistic Congress, which is to meet at Montreal this year. The Eucharistic Congress will be held in September and both before and after the meeting Cardinal Vannutelli will visit a number of the principal cities in the United States. In Rome Cardinal Vannutelli is known as the Irish Cardinal, because he shows such a preference for Irish priests and students. He is the tallest of all the Cardinals, stands six feet three inches and is built in proportion without any undue avoidings.

There is a tradition in Rome that the Cardinal is descended from an exiled Irish patriot, whose name was Daniel Kelly. The Italians could not pronounce the name of Vannutelli. If he is not Irish, he has all the Irish characteristics.

MORE ROOM.

Unity Council Plans An Addition to Club House.

Unity Council, Y. M. I., of New Albany, is preparing to erect an addition to its present club house, and to that end will give a mammoth euchre in St. Joseph's Hall on Easter Tuesday, March 29, and has arranged to give a series of dances at St. Andrew's Hall during April and May. The committee in charge is made up of John J. Stunler, Frank Hullein, John Pontich, Cornelius McBaron and George Bettman.

President Fred Reisz believes, and his colleagues agree with him, that Catholicity would be materially benefited by the erection of a club house or home for Catholics in every community. Unity Council has a handsome home, but it is not large enough to fit the needs of that growing council. It is proposed to have a library, gymnasium and bath-rooms in the new addition.

GERMANS HONOR EMMET.

One notable feature of the celebration of Robert Emmet by the Irish of New York City on last Sunday evening was the presence of the United German Singing Societies, 600 strong. They sang Irish melodies and folk songs. One of the distinguished guests was Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador at Washington. Judge O'Sullivan presided and Surrogate Cohanah delivered the principal address. The Irish musical numbers were excellent.

SOUND WORDS

Supreme President Mahan to the Rank and File of the Y. M. I.

Admonishes Councils and Members to Strive For Better Things.

Suggests Chapel Car and How It Might Be Secured at Once.

REFERS TO CONSOLIDATION IDEA

L. E. Mahan, Supreme President of the Young Men's Institute and a resident of Eureka, Cal., has addressed a general letter to the subordinate officers and members of the order. Mr. Mahan praises the order for what it has done in the past, but admonishes the members not to stand still. Progress is the watchword, he says. In order to make progress the order must show strength. It must have ideal principles and well defined ideals. Having these, they must be put into practice, and it must have the power to enforce them. He points out that the Y. M. I. is a society of Catholics banded together for mutual aid and benevolence; that the members are bound to do all they can for the moral, social and intellectual benefit of each other. Supreme President Mahan then quotes the encyclical of Pope Leo XIII. as follows:

"We should study our duty as Catholic men, we should work together for a common purpose. We should according to our capacity earnestly study Christian doctrine, and fill our minds as well as we may with the knowledge of those truths which contain religion, and can be investigated by reason alone."

"And having done this we should as often as occasion demands or presents itself impart to others what we have received, and to profess our faith openly and fearlessly, either by instruction or by example, faithful or to curb the scoffing of unbelievers. Each one should strive with might and main to propagate Christian truth and to banish error." Supreme President Mahan also admonishes the members of the order to devote at least one meeting in each month to the study of Catholic and educational matters, and to live at all times the lives of courageous Catholic gentlemen. Next he admonishes them to advertise. He declares that it is time for members of the order to undertake some project that will reflect credit upon it; something that will cause it to merit the esteem, confidence and well wishes of the public, something in which every member of the order would be interested.

He suggests that the Y. M. I. purchase a chapel car, similar to that of the Catholic Church Extension Society. He suggests that each council recommend that an assessment for the purpose be laid upon each member, and that all who are disposed to be given the opportunity to make larger donations. He adds:

"Probably you may have a better plan in mind by which this fund may be raised. If so we will be pleased to receive the suggestion. But by all means let us get busy and raise the fund and furnish the Y. M. I. chapel car, and thereby bring glory and success to our organization. No doubt most if not all the members are aware of the alliance between the Catholic Young Men's National Union and the Young Men's Institute, which was brought about through the able assistance of Supreme First Vice President P. H. Keefe and Supreme Director James T. Shelley. The two delegates appointed to represent the Y. M. I. at the C. Y. M. N. U. convention in Boston last September."

"This action has done and will do much toward making the aims and objects of the Y. M. I. known and to a great extent will place our order in a position to which it is justly entitled in the minds of the Catholics of America, and will give it a foothold in new and I trust fruitful fields, and will cause the clergy to inquire into and investigate our order, and having done this are sure to lend their support to it; and lastly, but by no means least, by this action we have won the best wishes, esteem and support of that grand body of Catholic young men who have been and are still working along similar lines as our order is working, and I feel that when the members of that body consider the aims, objects and workings of the Y. M. I. many of them will be found in our ranks, and likewise when our members more fully consider the worthy cause for which the C. Y. M. N. U. is laboring they will lend their influence to it and join its ranks, and as a result better work can be accomplished and sooner or later the two organizations will become more firmly cemented together, if not consolidated into one grand organization."

HONORED ATTORNEY DEAD.

The funeral of Thomas W. Bullitt, eminent attorney, veteran of the Confederate army and public spirited citizen, took place from his residence, 1019 Fourth avenue. Mr. Bullitt died in Baltimore on Thursday of last week as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. He is survived by his wife and four sons, all of whom take an active interest in public affairs. The sons are Attorney William Marshall Bullitt, County Attorney A. Scott Bullitt, Attorney Keith Bullitt and Dr. A. T. Bullitt.

PREPARATION FOR HOLY WEEK

Tomorrow will be Passion Sunday and the Sunday following will be Palm Sunday. It commemorates the triumphal entry of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ into Jerusalem five days before his death on the cross. On that momentous day more than 1900 years ago the people of Jerusalem waved palm branches before him as he entered the city and shouted hosannas. These same people clamored for his death a few days later.

The church has celebrated Palm Sunday since the earliest Christian era. Branches of palm are blessed before the mass and distributed to the faithful. The gospel read on Palm Sunday is the longest of the year and embodies the entire story of the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem, the events leading up to the Last Supper, his passion and death on the cross. The gospel tells of our Saviour's affection for St. John, of the institution of the sacrament of the Eucharist, the betrayal of Christ by Judas; the agony in the Garden of Gethsemane; his trial before Pilate; his death by Peter, the head of the apostles; the carriage of the cross and journey to Calvary; his crucifixion, death and burial. It is the saddest story of the church, and yet incites the faithful to penitence and fervor and prepares them for the solemn ceremonies of the week and the anniversary of his triumphal resurrection on Easter Sunday.

The ceremonies on Palm Sunday are very impressive and part of the palms blessed on that day are saved until the following year, when they are burned and used to bless the people on Ash Wednesday. Palm Sunday ushers in Holy Week, the week that commemorates Christ's death and burial. Fathers of the church have also called it "The Week of Forgiveness," "The Week of Penitence" and "The Week of the Holy Passion." The custom of keeping Holy Week descends to us from apostolic times. In the early days many Christians fasted throughout the entire week. Others kept an absolute fast on Wednesday, Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday. In these days very few unless in monastic orders observe such a strict fast.

On Wednesday, Holy Thursday and Good Friday evenings, in such churches and monasteries as have a sufficient number of priests or clerics, the office of the Tenenrae is sung. Tenenrae is the Hebrew word for darkness, and is used to symbolize the spiritual darkness that overspread the world prior to the coming of Christ. At the opening of the service thirteen candles are lighted on a triangular candelabrum. The triangle represents the symbolizes the Holy Trinity; the candles, Christ and his twelve apostles. The lessons of the first nocturn are taken from the lamentations of the prophet Jeremiah. At the end of each psalm one of the candles is extinguished until only one is left at the top of the triangle. During the singing of the "Benedictus" the candles on the high altar are extinguished, while during the subsequent antiphon the single candle remaining lighted is removed behind the epistle corner of the altar, to be brought out again at the end of the office.

According to Pope Benedict XIV, the candle is hidden to signify that death could not really obtain dominion over Christ, though it appeared to do so. The clapping noise made at the end of the office symbolizes the confusion that followed Christ's death.

BEWARE OF SWINDLER.

The Buffalo Volksfreund cautions Catholics all over the United States to beware a smooth confidence man, who is traveling over the country in the guise of a Franciscan monk and who calls himself Brother Antonius. He claims to be a victim of French anti-clericalism. His real name is Jacob Marten, and investigation shows that he has served several terms of imprisonment in Germany for all sorts of swindling. Finding that country a little too warm for him the swindler turned his attention to America. According to the latest reports he is preparing to work his trade in the South and West.

SPRING PLANS

Of Div. 2, A. O. H., Include
Two Interesting Events.

President Con. J. Ford presided over a very interesting meeting of Division 2, A. O. H., on Friday night of last week. Thomas Lannon, of the Highlands, was reported ill of pneumonia, and Edward Madigan was reported suffering from a dislocated shoulder. Both are old and highly esteemed members of Division 2. An interesting discussion came up as to the best means of reducing suspensions to a minimum. County Secretary Edward Kelran reported the arrangements for the visitation to St. Patrick's church on Passion Sunday and the entertainment at Macaulay's on Palm Sunday. It was decided to hold a social session of Division 2 on the evening of April 1 and to give a reception, euchre and dance on the evening of April 15.

COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY HUFFAKER.

There is no more loyal Democrat in Kentucky than Joseph M. Huffaker, Commonwealth's Attorney for this judicial district. He has proven his fealty to the party by hard work, and has lifted his voice in its behalf on the hustings in many parts of the State. Mr. Huffaker is a trained advocate, an able prosecutor and a forceful jury pleader. He has made one of the best if not the very best Commonwealth's Attorneys ever seen in Louisville.

Joe Huffaker is a terror to evil doers. He is now serving his second term in the office, and his popularity is increasing as the days go by. He is still on the sunny side of forty. His friends hope to see him elevated to the bench before many more years roll by.

LOUISVILLE & HENDERSON.

Louisville is rapidly growing in every essential element and her commerce, trade and manufactures have multiplied at a very satisfactory rate. In enumerating the various concerns of this city which have contributed in a great measure toward making Louisville a great commercial center many place the name of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroad in the foremost rank. This great company has done a great deal to advertise the name and fame of Louisville. In the transaction of its vast volume of business this company gives employment to many people, and extends to all its employees fair and considerate treatment. As long as the affairs of the company are conducted in the present progressive and commendable manner its patronage will continue to increase.

The present officers of the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railroad are: L. J. Irwin, President and General Manager; W. L. Mapother, Vice President; L. W. Hottis, Treasurer, and Hodgeley Cayce, Secretary.

CANDY FOR CHARITY.

The annual candy pulling for the benefit of Sacred Heart parochial school will be held in the school hall, Seventeenth and Broadway, on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, March 17. The ladies of the congregation always make the candy and only the best sugar and flavors are used. Tickets entitling the holder to candy are being sold for ten cents.

HOPKINS' THEATRE.

Manager Dustin promises another fine line of motion pictures at the Hopkins' Theatre next week. Besides the customary illustrated songs there will be several new and clever features. The Hopkins' Theatre is one of the largest moving picture houses in the United States, and its patronage is constantly increasing.

CALLED HIM.

Justice John M. Harlan Draws Salaries from Two Separate Sources.

President of Illinois University Takes the Noted Jurist to Task.

Kentucky Educators Enter Earnest Protest Against His Pet Measure.

SON DEFENDS HIS FATHER

The world seems daft on the matter of pensions and on bonuses for universities and colleges. It develops that Justice Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, has been dabbling in the university matter. The Cincinnati Enquirer says: It is not often that a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States is sharply and publicly criticised before a committee of Congress. Yet that is just what happened today when Edmund J. James, President of the University of Illinois, took Justice Harlan, of the highest court in the land, to task for his activities in urging upon the House Committee on Agriculture the passage of the Morrill bill, extending the Morrill act to the District of Columbia and naming George Washington University as the medium through which the funds are expended.

"At the hearing given by this committee December 10, 1909," said Dr. James, "I noticed that Justice Harlan, of the Supreme Court of the United States, argued for this bill. If I am correctly informed, Justice Harlan has been on the pay-roll of the George Washington University for many years at a salary of from $2,000 to $3,000 per year."

"It does not seem to me that it is quite the proper thing for a Justice of the Supreme Court to urge upon the Congress among whose members are many men who practice in his court and may be beholden to him for favors, that they should make appropriations for the benefit of a private institution on whose pay-roll the said Justice has been for the better part of a generation."

In answer to Dr. James' suggestion that Justice Harlan was on the pay-roll of the university and that his advocacy of the bill must therefore be discounted because of the possibility of the reduction in his salary in case the bill was not passed, Justice Harlan's son, Dr. R. D. Harlan, defended his father against the attack, saying:

"It is doubtless not worth while before any committee of Congress to make the slightest reply to the cheap fling at my honored father which President James has just permitted himself to make. Most of this committee were well aware of the fact that for twenty years he had been a teacher of constitutional law at the George Washington University."

"That is a matter of common knowledge in this city. But as he is now approaching his four-score years in the District, during which he has come in close contact with its young men, I do not suppose there was very much doubt in the minds of the committee as to the sincerity of an appeal in behalf of the only feasible plan in sight for granting to the young men of the District the same privileges that are now given to the alien races of Hawaii and Porto Rico. His love of fair play and equal rights and his interest in young men are too well known in this community to call for any further comment upon Dr. James' insinuation."

President James K. Patterson, of the University of Kentucky; W. J. McConathy, Principal Louisville Normal School, and President H. H. Cherry, of the Western Kentucky State Normal School, signed the petition to Congress protesting against Congressional aid for the George Washington University.

FATHER OHLE AWAY.

The Very Rev. Father Louis Ohle, pastor of St. Martin's church, left for Florida on Tuesday of last week and is not expected home for several weeks. He is suffering from rheumatism and a general breakdown in health. This is Father Ohle's first vacation in many years.

GROWTH IN SCHOOLS.

Last year 142 parochial schools were established in the United States and nearly 40,000 more children placed under Catholic teachers. Today we have 4,845 parish schools attended by 1,237,250 pupils.

SPLENDIDTribute to the Irish Soldier Is Paid
By an Ohio Statesman.Gen. Sherwood Recounts Deeds of Valor on Many Battlefields.Declares Phil Sheridan Was Greatest Cavalry General of the Civil War.RECALLS AN OLD TIME SPEECH

Gen. Isaac Sherwood, of Toledo, Ohio, and Representative in Congress from the Ninth district of the Buckeye State, has paid a handsome tribute to the Irish soldier, and it is particularly appropriate at this season of the year. Recently some of his liberal friends in Toledo asked him to say something about the Irish in America, and he did. Among other things Gen. Sherwood said:

"Among the first of new acquaintances I met on my return from the war in July, 1865, was that broad-minded and scholarly and patriotic Irishman, Stephen J. Meaney, then editor of the 'Morning Commercial.' I became intimately associated with him on that paper, and through him first met Father Hanlin, one of the most enthusiastic and devoted patriots I have ever met. He had more energy and vitality than any human being I have ever known. All the enthusiasm and intensity of devotion of my valued comrade of the war, Father O'Brien, of the Church of the Good Shepherd. And as evidence of the fact that Father Hanlin was a devotee of the Union soldiers, he never missed in the writer and others of the war to his patriotic entertainments. I remember his famous celebration of St. Patrick's day in White's Hall, Summit street, March 17, 1866. On that occasion Father Hanlin assigned me to the task, 'The Irish Soldier.' In an old scrap book I find the following printed report of that speech:

"If I should say the Irish race is the most belligerent race in the world you would concede it without argument, but when I say that the Irish race is the strongest race in the world in blood, strength and national vitality you may call for the evidence. Let us see. The Phoenicians, the Spaniards, the French, the Danes and the Britons—all invaded Ireland by war—and each in turn was absorbed and assimilated by the Irish. The green isle is still Ireland and the Irish heart and impulse are still true to the traditions of the Irish race.

"And here is another characteristic of the Irish race. No race ever created a more rapid and thorough assimilation with our free institutions. For instance, Patrick Henry, half Irish in blood and all Irish in spirit, the foremost orator of the decade preceding the war of the Revolution, was the first to proclaim in public: 'Give me liberty or give me death.'

"The Irish Catholics in Maryland led by the Irish Bishop of Baltimore were ahead of the Puritans of New England in the Revolutionary movement. The Irish of South Carolina were bolder and more aggressive than the patriots of Massachusetts Bay. And now, let me recall some of the great wars in which I was allowed to take a humble part. No battle was ever fought without heroic Irish blood redoning the field of carnage. The last successful fight of the war was led by that Ohio born Irish soldier, Gen. Phil Sheridan, at Five Forks, Va. It is conceded that Sheridan was the greatest cavalry general of the war, and he divided the honor with Hancock and Hooker as the most brilliant battlefield general.

"The soldier who led the most desperate and hopeless cavalry charge of the entire war was an Irishman—Col. Keenan, of the Eighth Pennsylvania cavalry. At Chancellorsville he led a charge of four hundred cavalrymen against the advance of Stonewall Jackson's ten thousand Confederates. This charge stunned and scattered the advance and in the confusion 'Stonewall' Jackson, next to Robert E. Lee, the greatest general of the Confederate army, was killed.

"The famous Irish Brigade, immortalized by the Irish poet-soldier, Col. Charles G. Halpine, did more desperate fighting and lost more men than any other brigade of the Union army. Gen. Phil Kearney, the hero of four wars, was an Irishman. He was desperately wounded in the battle of Chancellorsville, Mexico, where he lost his left arm. Kearney first served in the French army in Algeria, Africa. He fought on the French side in the famous battle of Solferino in the Crimean campaign of 1855, in which the allied French and Sardinians, under Napoleon III, signally defeated the Austrians. Owing to Kearney's splendid courage and valor, Napoleon conferred upon him the Cross of the Legion of Honor, the first American who ever received that decoration for military service. Gen. Shields, another Irish soldier, a famous fighter, lost his left arm, shattered by a shell in the first battle of Winchester."

FATHER McSHERRY PLACED.

The Rev. Father J. L. McSherry, formerly of this diocese has been appointed by the Right Rev. Bishop O'Connor to succeed the Rev. Father Charles Doyle as curate in the church of the Sacred Heart, at Bloomfield, N. J. Father McSherry was ordained in the Louisville diocese, but went East about ten years ago. For some time he was attached to the diocese of Buffalo, but a year ago removed to the diocese of Newark.

WELL ATTENDED MISSION.

The two weeks' mission at Holy Trinity church, Kentucky and Dupuy streets, which began last Sunday morning, is being well attended. This week was for the ladies, and beginning tomorrow the services will be for men. The mission is being conducted by Redemptorist Fathers. A low mass is celebrated at 5 o'clock and a high mass at 8 o'clock. A short sermon follows each mass. Every evening at 7:30 o'clock there are the recitation of the rosary, sermon and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The mission will close next Sunday evening.

THE QUIET HOUR.

My heart is tired, so tired tonight—How endless seems the strife! Day after day the restlessness Of all this woe and life! I come to lay the burden down That so oppresseth me, And, shutting all the world without, To spend an hour with Thee, Dear Lord, To spend an hour with Thee!

I would forget a little while The buried hopes of years; The anxious thoughts that crowd my life, The bitterness of tears, Forget that mortal's weary toll My patient care must he, A tired child I come tonight To spend an hour with Thee, Dear Lord, One little hour with Thee!

FINE TRIBUTEPaid New Bishop of Hartford by Protestant Minister.

The Rev. John J. Nilan, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Amesbury, Mass., has received official notification of his appointment as Bishop of Hartford, Conn. Father Nilan is described as a man of strong character, broad in his views, a deep thinker and a forceful and ready speaker. The Rev. James D. Dingwell, of the Congregational church at Amesbury, pays the following tribute to Bishop-elect Nilan:

"As a faithful embodiment of that word of the Master, 'He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in much,' faithful consecration to duties, small and great, has characterized his spirit as a parish priest, both within and without his church. As a preacher he combines with splendid oratorical powers, a healthy practicality in thought and an open, virile personality. As a man and a citizen he has been both brotherly and patriotic. In a church that must have Bishops, he is the type of man who will adorn the office, for he will ever be a servant as well as a ruler. I rejoice in his advancement. I am sorry for the parish which has lost so good and wise a shepherd."

COUNTY CLERK PRES. RAY.

County Clerk Pres Ray has been for several years an untiring worker in the interests of the Democratic party, national, city, State and county. He made an excellent record.

ord as County Assessor, and before he retired from that office he had largely increased his acquaintance in this city and county. From his thorough knowledge of the people and affairs, it was no trouble for him to familiarize himself with the duties of County Clerk after he had been elected.

Mr. Ray showed good judgment at the outset by installing capable, careful and efficient deputies. When the office was transferred from his Republican predecessor to him, there was not a moment's hitch. The affairs of the office moved just as smoothly as if the County Clerk and his deputies had been in office for years. Such efficient service will conduce to the upbuilding of the Democratic party.

JOHN ROHMAN.

Prominently connected with the saloon business in our city is John Rohman, proprietor of the saloon located at the southwest corner of Second and Green, where can be found at all hours of the day and up to midnight one of the best lunches that ever tempted the appetite of man, with an abundance of the best of everything in the line of liquors, wines and beers found in a well regulated and fashionable cafe. John Rohman, the proprietor, gives his personal and constant attention to the business, which is a guarantee that once in his cafe you will surely call again. Since the opening of this cafe it has grown in public favor and enjoys the distinction of liberal patronage, owing to the popularity of the gentleman who conducts it.

READY TO RACE.

Churchill Downs presents a busy scene these days. New horses, managers, trainers and handlers are coming in almost every day. The big opening event, of course, will be the Kentucky Derby, and final payment has been made on twenty-eight entries. The owners of twenty-four horses have made final payment in the Kentucky Oaks. No less than 111 nominations have been made for the Derby of May, 1911.

BETTERThan Ever Before Is the Order of Catholic Knights of America.Commendatory Letters to Henry
Bosquet Are Properly
Appreciated.Two Uniform Companies Arrange for Trip to Supreme Convention.SHOW AT BROADWAY THEATER

According to advices from Dr. Felix Gaudin, Supreme President of the Catholic Knights of America, that order is now in better condition than ever before. In a letter to Henry Bosquet, of this city, Dr. Gaudin returns thanks for a copy of the new directory of local Knights gotten out by the Central Committee. Mr. Bosquet was Chairman of the committee that arranged the directory. The Supreme President commends the directory for its neatness, and said that it would not doubt help the members in their business. Working in each other's behalf is to be commended, declares Dr. Gaudin, and the best way to do that is working on the line of the directory, as gotten out by the Central Committee.

The Louisiana State Council had several directories printed, says Dr. Gaudin, and they have helped the members in patronizing each other. He says that he is kept in touch with the work of the committee through the medium of the Kentucky Irish American, and comments: Central Committee for keeping the order so well advertised. He urges the members to build up the membership in the various branches and to start new branches as soon as possible. Then he adds:

"The Catholic Knights of America are in better condition than ever before, and if it was good when it was on the verge of bankruptcy, certainly it ought to be better at present, and it is up to our members to make it better still by increasing our membership."

In concluding his letter to Mr. Bosquet, Dr. Gaudin says that he hopes to meet him and many other Knights and the two Uniform Rank companies when the Supreme convention meets at Nashville in May.

Another letter to Mr. Bosquet informs him that Joseph Berning, of Cincinnati, editor of the C. K. of A. Journal, is confined to his home by an attack of grip. He, too, commends the new directory of Louisville Knights and praises Mr. Bosquet for his hustling ability. Mr. Berning expects to visit Louisville some time this month.

Encouraged by such commendations the Central Committee invited the Uniform Rank to make the trip to Nashville in May. The two companies accepted the invitation, and on Friday night of last week the members of the two companies and a deputation from Central Committee met at St. Martin's Hall and took steps to raise funds to defray the expenses of the trip.

Capt. Oscar Miller called the meeting to order and stated the object of the meeting, after which Gen. Gus Kane was elected Chairman, and Eugene McCarthy, Secretary. It decided to rent the Broadway Theater for benefit entertainments on the afternoons and evenings of Wednesday and Thursday, April 6 and 7. A change of programme will be given each day. Lieut. Seeder has charge of the distribution of tickets. Every member of the order will assist in handling the advertising, and his crowds are expected to attend on both days.

The two uniform companies of Louisville will make a big hit if they go to Nashville, and all members of the order ought to encourage them.

REV. FATHER GAFNEY TRANSFERRED.

The Very Rev. Father F. A. Gaffney, O. P., who was formerly attached to St. Louis Bertrand's convent in Louisville, is now at Holy Name church, Kansas City. During the past six weeks Father Gaffney has been all at Mount Carmel Hospital, Columbus, Ohio. During the last fourteen years Father Gaffney has been a very active Dominican. He served two terms as pastor of St. Peter's church in Memphis, and was later pastor at St. Antonius convent at Newark, N. J.

BOSTON CAFE COMPANY.

Among the advancing concerns of our city there is none that has a more enviable reputation in their line of business than the Boston Cafe Company, located at 337 West Market street. It is well known in Louisville, and there is no cafe in the city that gives more satisfaction than does this well known and enterprising concern. The merchant's lunch served to the patrons is equal to the best, and has much to do with making this cafe one of the most popular within our midst. The excellence of service and attention to public wishes which are proverbial with this concern have earned it a distinct success. The proprietors of this concern have always shown themselves to be just in dealing with the people and men of ability, Mr. J. C. Boardman, who directs this institution, has a host of friends and followers who wish him continual success.

SELECT DANCE.

A number of popular young men of the East End are arranging a select dance to be given at Trinity Hall, Baxter and Norton avenues, on the night of Thursday, March 17. The managers are F. Valinotti and F. Drigman.

PRESS VERSUS CHURCH.

All Americans, irrespective of creed and class, are too prone to believe what they see in the daily newspapers. There are some discerning ones, who with disbelieving eyes, see that the things that are in error, but who believe other things that are equally in error. By degrees the editors of these dailies are improving the standard of news, and yet the average news letters from Rome, Berlin, Paris, Vienna, The Hague and London are rotten. The Knights of Columbus have taken this matter up, and with due perseverance they can accomplish much. The Columbian, the official organ of the Knights of Columbus, contains a number of suggestions as to remedying the attitude of the press toward the Catholic church. Hon. Edward J. McDermott seems to have epitomized the subject. He writes:

Many newspapers and magazines are now fair to us. Most of them would be if the millions of Catholic readers bought generally with discrimination. The American press formerly was, and in no slight degree still is, dominated by the English press, which has been staunchly Protestant for three centuries or until of late years, which has naturally colored the political news of the world to suit English interests and which has also colored the religious news to the prejudice of the Catholic church, and has thus "poisoned the wells."

As said by the New York Evening Post in 1904, "most of the news we get of Europe, or Europe of itself, is merely the more or less intelligent condensation of London Times dispatches—that is, news filtered through a British correspondent, next through a British editor, and next through a London correspondent before it reaches the (American) home office." Hence the favoritism long shown here to Japan, England's special ally in the Orient. Hence the loud, persistent clamor here against Leopold's and Belgium's Congo Government, not wholly good but defended by reputable American and English travelers and chiefly denounced because it interfered with some selfish plans of England and certain valinglorious missionaries. Hence, too, the suppression of many important facts and the distortion of others as to Anarchist Ferrer's dishonorable career and natural execution.

On less convincing evidence and for no greater crime, America hanged the Haymarket anarchists of Chicago. America would have hanged Ferrer also. His disreputable life and criminal connection with the Barcelona riots, base and brutal in the last degree, were set out plainly in the New York Evening Post of November 6, 1909, but the true facts were recklessly misjudged or misrepresented by the New York Life of November 4, 1909, which really ought never to depart from its customary, fat-tongued parables.

There has undoubtedly been a change for the better in the treatment of the church by the secular press. The old-fashioned insults and diatribes pay less and less. Most Protestants don't care for such things. The atmosphere grows brighter. When Leo XIII. was ill and dying, the American press rang with his praise. He was considered, as he was, the peer of the two other great men of his generation, Bismarck and Gladstone. The press does justice, too, to those great spokesmen of the time, Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland and Bishop Spalding. No man in America is heard or quoted with more respect than the Cardinal, because no man better combines learning, literary skill, wisdom and breadth of view with nobility of character, courage, dignity and the best American spirit. His word as a citizen and a moralist, without regard to his pre-eminent office, everywhere attracts an attention and carries a weight not surpassed.

COOKING SCHOOLS.

At a meeting of the Alumnae Society of the Girls' High School last week Miss Nancy Wilson read and discussed a paper on the "Function of the High Schools in the Community." The learned lady said that a high school course must have a broadening influence in order to fit girls for life. She also said that the purpose of including cooking and sewing in schools is not to make cooks and seamstresses out of high school girls, but the effect of such training naturally increases their scope and their usefulness.

All this is very true. None expects a high school girl to devote her sole aim in life to making shirts or salads, but it is well for her to know how it should be done. If you have a cooking department teach the girls at least some branch of the culinary art. If you have a sewing department, there might come a time in some of their lives when the art of sewing a button on a shirt or a pair of trousers might avoid a family quarrel.

TIMELY ADVICE.

The editor of the Dundalk Democrat is always sensible, and he is always closer to the scene of Irish and British politics than we are. In reference to the latest developments in the British Parliament he says: "Whatever opposition may appear the Nationalists must be prepared to fight and defend it, and they must be prepared to provide the sinews of war, without which this fight can't be made. We have no doubt that the funds will be forthcoming. There are no more generous people than the Irish. They know and appreciate the services that have been rendered to them by Mr. Redmond and his followers. They know the value of a united and pledge-bound party defending Irish interests at Westminster, and the more fierce the onslaught on the party the more ready and loyal would be the support given to it by the people of Ireland. There is no time to be lost in this matter. Any moment may see a contest precipitated. Immediate steps should be taken to inaugurate a collection in every parish for the Irish Parliamentary fund. Those who are fortunate enough to escape a contested Parliamentary election ought to, and we are sure will, provide the funds necessary to defend the Nationalist seats that are threatened with attack. It must not be said that the people of Ireland are too niggardly or too apathetic to give Mr. Redmond the necessary financial backing in this crisis of our country's fortunes. The case admits of no delay; and we confidently expect that before another week every town and district in the country will have set on foot the making of a collection for the national fund that will give a fitting answer to Mr. O'Brien and those other dissension-mongers who are prophesying the bankruptcy of the National movement."

This advice to the Irish people of Ireland is wise and timely. Too much passing the hat in America will kill the geese that lay the golden eggs.

UPSIDE DOWN.

The members of the General Council of Louisville who are delecting in an endeavor to make a grant of taxpayers' funds to the University of Louisville might give long consideration to the following editorial in the Catholic Citizen of Rochester. It says:

"Our system of education is like a pyramid standing upon its apex. Although we spend our money at the rate of $100 for the university to $50 for the high school and $25 for the grade school, yet only one of each 120 students goes through the university, only one in thirty goes through high schools and only about 25 per cent. of the pupils ever get beyond the grade school. They go up to the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade and go out and go to work without any training for life."

There is more truth than poetry in this.

SCURRILOUS PAPER.

One of the most scurrilous papers seen in recent years in Louisville was circulated in the general offices of the L. and N. railroad last week. It was an attack upon the Pope of Rome, the Catholic church, the Catholics in general and Louisville Democrats in particular. Milton J. Smith, President of the L. and N. railroad, and Major William A. Colston will hardly tolerate a man of the character of the author of the scurrilous letter in the L. and N. Auditor's office. Yet he is still there and snailing his Catholic neighbors.

TRY HOWE PRODUCTS.

What is the matter with Louisville? There must be something wrong with the town! When a Superintendent of juvenile affairs, a head of the School of Reform or a reference clerk of the Public Library is needed, the authorities have to send to Chicago or elsewhere to seek a capable person. When it comes to paying the bills the Louisville taxpayer must do it. Let us try to patronize home intelligence as well as home industry.

Be prompt in resending ridicule that attacks your faith. Remember that the ridicule of St. Patrick is an insult to the apostle of Ireland, one of the greatest figures of the Catholic church. Not the Irish alone, but all Catholics, ought to resent such ridicule and ought to make it felt in a most effective way.

Holy week is almost upon us. Remember that it is a busy week for your pastor and the clergy. Do not trouble them about trivial matters at this season of the year.

SOCIETY.

Miss Margaret Monohan has gone to New York for a week's visit.

Miss Katie Moran is visiting Miss Mary Mullane, of 810 Seventh street.

Attorney Charles F. Taylor is recuperating at French Lick Springs this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pfeiffer, of the Highlands, are home after an extended sojourn in Cuba.

Patrik Kennedy, a respected resident of New Albany, is ill at his home on West Sixth street.

Miss Nora Maddox, of Middletown, arrived last week for a visit to her sister, Mrs. Nellie Robertson.

Miss Willie Kenney, of Bagdad, has been spending a week here as the guest of the Misses Estes.

Miss Lillian Murphy has returned from Bloomfield, after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. I. M. McMakin.

Miss Annie Downs, of Trenton, N. J., is here to spend a month with Mrs. Will Downs at Deer Park.

Mrs. J. A. Bowles, of Highland Park, has returned from a visit to her mother, Mrs. Ryan, at Lovett.

Patrik Kennedy, a well known resident of New Albany, is quite ill at his home, 218 West Sixth street.

Mrs. J. R. Gleason, of West Point, spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kistner at Highland Park.

Miss Lula Shannon, of Shelbyville, is here spending two weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Morton, of Kenwood way.

Miss Mayne Hardin, who was the guest of Mrs. Ella McGwire at Highland Park, has returned to her home at Parkview.

Miss Jennette Holman, of Glasgow, has been here for a week, visiting Miss Lulla Harlow and other friends in Portland.

Mrs. J. T. McDermott, of Paris, was last week the guest of her daughter, Mrs. John P. Hanley, Crescent Hill.

Miss Cleo Charlton, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Hill, of Houston, Texas, since Christmas, has returned home.

Mrs. Anthony Connelly, who has been suffering from rheumatism at her home, 2513 Duane street, is slightly improved.

Charles Finigan and wife and daughter, Miss Winona, of New Albany, have been visiting relatives at Marengo, Ind.

Miss Rose Shea and nephew, Hamilton McCann, of Clifton, arrived home Saturday, after an enjoyable visit in Dayton, Ohio.

Gerhard Hinkelsch, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of New Albany, is recovering from a severe attack of the grip.

Mrs. Walter P. Lincoln entertained Saturday at her home in Garvin Place in honor of Miss Emma Gruber, of Woodford county.

Mrs. Honora Conitt, of 1126 Rogers street, who was seriously ill last week, is much improved. Her many friends hope for her speedy and complete recovery.

Harry Swann, Lecturer of Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, was absent from his post Wednesday night. He was at home admiring a new boy that arrived this week.

Mrs. George Kautz, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever at her home on Cherokee road, near Louisa, is now convalescent, to the great relief of her relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kennedy have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Kennedy, to Marvin H. McIntyre, of Washington, D. C. The wedding will be solemnized on April 3.

George J. Lantz, the merchant tailor and popular member of Mackin Council, is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby boy at his home. The mother and child are doing nicely, and Papa George wants to start a juvenile branch of Mackin Council.

Quite a number of social events were arranged in the West End in honor of Miss Lulu Schreiber, who will become the bride of William Comstock on April 20. Last week Miss Schreiber was given a delicious shower by Miss Susan Pfeiffer and a number of admiring friends.

The many friends of Mrs. John McCloskey, of Clifton, will be rejoiced to learn that there has been a favorable change in her condition. She has been at St. Anthony's Hospital for the past two weeks, and it is now thought she will soon be able to return to her home.

NO SALARIES.

Councillmen and Aldermen Must Work Gratis Or Resign.

Mayor Head Put Quietus On Measure At Committee Stage.

Pension Fund Seems to Have Taken Hold of Certain Legislators.

TAXPAYERS ARE IN DISTRESS

No salaries for members of the General Council. That is the slogan of Mayor Head, and the members who were most vociferous in their clamors for an allowance of $15,000 per annum say not Amen, but remain silent. In council parlance one would call it a reversal of form. The men most affected say "We just give it up."

The scheme to pay members of the General Council was originated a month ago. The first proposition was to pay the members $10. Finally it developed into an ordinance to pay each of the members of the General Council $20 a month or an aggregate of $18,000 per annum.

The Kentucky Irish American was the first to call attention to the fact that an effort was being made to work on the pocketbooks of the taxpayers. Several members of the General Council thought that the Kentucky Irish American had interfered unnecessarily. The taxpayers and Mayor W. O. Head did not think so. On the advice of Mr. Head the salary grab for the General Council has been called off—another victory for the people and the Kentucky Irish American.

Men who legislate for the benefit of the city are entitled to proper emolument, but for those legislators to vote salaries to themselves smacks of graft, and the present city administration went into office with a clean bill of health. It ought to be kept clean.

The Evening Post has found many faults with the alleged incompetency of the Louisville Police department, but it has not told its readers that during the month of February just past that 118 more arrests were made than in any other month in the history of the department. Nor did the Post tell that the present administration was breaking up dives and driving worthless negroes out of the city or putting them into the jail and workhouse.

The three Judges of Common Pleas, William Field, Thomas Gordon and Walter F. Lincoln, are still hearing the attorneys on the firemen's pension problem, and after those learned jurists decide the matter will be taken to the Court of Appeals. The Kentucky Irish American opposes the pension proposition not on account of any man or set of men but on principle. Men who have been disabled or killed in the performance of duty should be cared for by the taxpayers, but the pension bill seems to be running riot in Louisville. The latest is the bill before the legislature to pension school teachers.

Why not pension shop girls, domestics, editors, aged and infirm Aldermen and Councillmen? Nobody would be surprised to hear a member of this present General Council arise in his seat and say: "I hold in my hand an ordinance to pension the taxpayers in Louisville and that the taxpayers must provide the funds to meet the necessary expense."

SUSTAINED SPRAIN.

Mrs. John J. Barret is confined to her home, 832 East Main street, on account of a badly sprained ankle. While engaged in household duties last Monday she fell from a step and sustained a compound sprain. The attending physicians say she will be confined to her bed for several weeks. She is in receipt of many messages of sympathy.

IRELAND'S HOME COMING.

Dedicated to Dan Scanlon. We are going back to dear old Ireland. We'll see her ancient hills once more. View her abbeys, shrines and round towers. That we loved in days of yore. Wander where we played in childhood. Felt oppression's cruel hand. That drove us forth as exiles To every foreign land.

In Australia and Van Diemen's land Many an exile sank to rest. Asking God's blessing on his native land. That loved island of the West. Separated from all they loved on earth. They raised the cross upon Australian shore. Where in many a Cathedral tower the Angels. Now rings music to their souls.

Upon Columbia's fair and fertile plains Millions of her off-spring stand To guard and protect the Stars and Stripes Against any foreign land. To live beneath its glorious folds Their fathers crossed the mighty wave. For they inhaled the incense of freedom's God That rose from Emmet's grave.

Exiles from Ulster, Munster, Leinster and Connaught. When you stand upon her soil She'll receive you with that kindness That a mother would her child. And with many a many a "Ceol Mille Pailibhe" She'll be glad to see you home. For you never forgot old Ireland In watered land you roamed.

Well, you're here, and me blessing on you. God be with those far away: Things look brighter now for Ireland. Thin they have for many a day. With that spirit of our Grattan and O'Connell. Parnell, John Mitchell and O'Brien. We will write the epitaph of Emmet On the calendar of time.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES.

The various delegates to the Supreme convention of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, which will meet in St. Louis in May, met at Robinson's Hall, Nineteenth and Main streets, on Wednesday night. John J. Seavey was the presiding officer. Miss Mary Sheridan was the Secretary. Nearly every branch of the order in Louisville was represented. The proceedings were quite interesting and when the meeting adjourned it was to meet with the Louisville Advisory Board at the residence of Thomas Keenan, 1225 West Market street, on the evening of Tuesday, March 22.

NEW YORK STORE.

The Household Club Plan.

What It Is and What It Means to You. An Explanation of Its Credit System.

EXPERIENCE teaches the retail store that probably 25 per cent. of its customers are in position to buy anything their fancy dictates, their property and reputation justifying almost unlimited credit. The other 75 per cent. are divided into three classes.

1. THE CASH CUSTOMERS who never care to buy on credit and will save up the necessary amount of money before making a purchase. Their reasoning is absolutely safe, but not altogether sound, for frequently under the laws and customs of business they are entitled to credit, and their not taking advantage of its privileges causes unnecessary hardship and inconvenience to themselves and families.

2. THE CHARGE CUSTOMERS who buy recklessly, sometimes more than they have reason to think they can pay for, and their inability to pay when due forfeits their right to credit in the future, when a good rating might be of inestimable value to them. Their lack of prudence in this case causes the same hardship and inconvenience to which the first class is subject.

3. THE CLEAR SIGHTED CUSTOMERS who have a steady income, even though small, and who are entitled to credit proportioned to their ability to give equal value of money in return for goods purchased.

Frequently their income is such that they are in position to settle for a large purchase at the end of the month as is customary with a regular account, and even though the goods might be greatly needed to furnish the home, the credit is refused them.

However, if this same charge was divided through, say ten months, their liability each month would be one-tenth the original amount and they would be justly entitled to the credit.

To meet just this emergency the HOUSEHOLD CLUB is designed, and those with a moderate income or monthly allowance will find it of especial interest, as through it they can buy at the REGULAR CASH PRICES and have the payments proportioned to their ability to pay. This is better than buying as the first class of customers above referred to, for they have the goods to use and enjoy instead of waiting until they saved up the money to make the purchase.

It is also better than the second class, for they do not contract a debt they cannot settle, and their reputation and good names are strengthened instead of weakened.

This is NOT an "INSTALLMENT PLAN" and "ANYBODY'S CREDIT IS 'NOT GOOD.'" It is just like a regular account with the exception that time payments per permitted, and in consequence of only worthy persons being given credit, they are not charged exorbitant prices to cover losses occasioned by selling to irresponsible parties. It is not proposed to make more profits on goods sold this way, but to sell more goods.

The principles of the Household Club are these:
1. A nominal fee is charged for joining the club. The fee is $2 for the $50 club; $3 for the $100 club, and $6 for the $200 club.
2. Ten per cent. of purchase is paid at time of purchase.
3. Minimum payments are as follows:
Purchases to $25, payments $1 a week, $4 a month.
Purchases $25 to $50, payments $1.50 a week, $6 a month.
Purchases $50 to $75, payments $1.75 a week, $7 a month.
Purchases $75 to $100, payments $2 a week, $8 a month, etc., these payments to continue until the amount of same equals the cost of the goods.

There is nothing to which anyone could object, and on account of its simplicity and liberality it appeals to all. FURNITURE, CARPETS, UPHOLSTERY and HOUSE-FURNISHINGS are sold on the Club Plan.

There is often a time when the wife or daughter with a monthly allowance wishes to purchase a piece of furniture for their room, but as they can't conveniently spare so large a sum any one month, it is not bought.

If they knew, however, that the payments could be made through the Household Club at the rate of $5 or $6 per month, they would gladly welcome the opportunity.

Young married people also often appreciate these prices, the perplexing problem of equipping the home with furnishings is solved.

It is always cheaper to buy the best and in small amount for several months and get soon to buy a cheap article and never feel satisfied.

Investigate the Household Club before it is too late.

Further information will be cheerfully given.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Relatives and friends of Robert J. Wieland, of 2431 Howan street, surprised him with a pleasant visit last Tuesday evening. It was his twenty-first birthday. His father, Assistant Chief Gregory Sheehan, presented him with a gold watch and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dignan, gave him a handsome gold chain. Miss Marie Wieland and Thomas Dignan entertained with musical numbers and to crown the celebration an elegant supper was served.

GRAND EUCHRE.

The members of St. Columba's church, Thirty-second and Market streets, will give a grand euchre for the benefit of the church at Pfister's Hall, Twenty-fifth and Market streets, on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday and Wednesday, March 29 and 30. The ladies of the congregation will serve supper and refreshments. The games will be called at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening. Tickets are being sold at twenty-five cents.

GRAEME MCGOWAN ILL.

Gracie McGowan, Vice President and Secretary of the Greenbrier Distilling Company, who was stricken ill on Wednesday, was removed from his home on the Brownsboro road to St. Joseph's Infirmary on Thursday morning. His family and friends are apprehensive as to his condition. There are few men in Louisville business circles more popular than Mr. McGowan.

FORTY HOURS' PRAYER.

With solemn high mass tomorrow morning the Forty Hours' adoration will take place at St. Cecilia's church, continuing until Tuesday. As this will be the last time to attend these impressive services in the present church, it is expected that they will be largely attended by both the old and young of the parish. Rev. Father Brady will be assisted by a number of the local clergy.

BUSY IRISH SOLDIERS.

The famous Sixty-ninth Regiment of New York believes in keeping busy whether in peace or in war. Adjutant General Nelson H. Henry will review the regiment on April 9; the regiment will attend mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral on St. Patrick's day; will be a feature of the Hibernian parade on the same afternoon, and will give a concert in their armory that evening.

THE MOCKING BIRD.

Rehearsals for the production of "The Mocking Bird," which is to be given at Maceuley's Theater under the auspices of the Catholic Woman's club, are progressing favorably. Cast and chorus are taking hold of their work with alacrity and zeal. The opera will be given on the evenings of April 11 and 12.

JUDGE MILLER ANNOUNCES.

Judge Shackelford Miller, of the First Chancery division of the Jefferson Circuit Court, has formally announced his candidacy for the Appellate bench. Judge Miller is as learned as he is popular. He will make a wise and a conscientious member of the Court of Appeals.

HEALTH BETTER.

Letters received this week from Florida bring the welcome intelligence that Col. John H. Whallen is enjoying greatly improved health. Since leaving Louisville Col. Whallen has visited Cuba, and he says his sojourn in the South has done him a world of good.

SURVIVES OPERATION.

Louis Hoff, who submitted to an operation for appendicitis at the Deaconess Hospital last Wednesday, is said to be progressing favorably toward recovery. Mr. Hoff is a traveling salesman for Rudolph & Bauer, and his friends are grieved over his illness.

Wall paper cleaner at Keeney's, ten cents a can; three for twenty-five cents.

LEAVES MONEY TO CHURCH.

The will of Bernard Tensorde, a wealthy farmer of Campbell county, was admitted to probate in Newport on Tuesday. He devised several thousand dollars toward the Catholic orphan asylum at Covington, toward preparing young men for the priesthood and to further Catholic Indian missions. The rest of his estate, amounting to $30,000, he left to his widow.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Indianapolis will hold a big initiation at St. Joseph's Hall tomorrow afternoon. The division at Hornell, N. Y., will have an elaborate banquet on St. Patrick's day, with the Ladies' Auxiliary as guests of honor.

Every Hibernian in Louisville should be at St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning, and thus show their loyalty to God and their grand old order.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night, when President Walsh will report the complete programme for the musical and lecture at Maceuley's on March 20.

The division at Richmond, Ind., will observe the feast of their patron saint by attending mass in a body on March 17, to be followed by a big banquet in the evening.

The County Board met in special session Thursday night at Bertrand Hall, which was too late for the proceedings to be given in this issue. They will appear next week.

Under the auspices of Division 1 of Minneapolis there was an excellent and largely attended celebration of the anniversary of Robert Emmet last Sunday afternoon.

Archbishop Glennon will deliver the address at the Pabst Theater for the order, and indications point to the largest crowd ever attending a St. Patrick's day event in the history of Milwaukee.

Members should secure their tickets for the musical and lecture on March 20 without delay, and thus avoid a rush on that evening. Every seat is numbered, therefore those who come first will have the choice.

Division 2 will meet next Friday night at First and Market, when attention will be taken on several matters that concern its future. President Ford and Secretary Keeney request the presence of all the members.

The divisions and auxiliary of South Bend, Ind., will celebrate St. Patrick's day with a banquet at the Elks' Temple. Judge Timothy Howard will act as toastmaster, and Hon. Daniel E. Kelly, of Valparaiso, will be the speaker of the evening.

Monday night Division 4 will meet in Bertrand Hall, and it is the earnest wish of President Hennessy and the officers that every member who possibly can do so will attend. The proceedings and reports will be of more than ordinary interest.

Tomorrow morning the division and auxiliary at Washington, Ind., will receive holy communion in a body, and on the evening of March 17 will march to St. Simon's church, where a lecture will be delivered by their chaplain, Rev. M. J. Gorman.

There was an immense gathering in Hibernian Hall at St. Paul last Saturday evening in commemoration of the anniversary of Robert Emmet. The affair was arranged by the County Board, and among those who delivered addresses were Gov. Eberhart.

Hibernians and Catholics will show such stores as exhibit postal cards and souvenirs that are an insult to both their race and religion. There are a number of these places in Louisville, and it is almost certain that a few protests would put an end to the sale of the offending articles.

Following their usual custom, Buffalo Hibernians will have their lady and gentlemen friends as guests at their St. Patrick's day banquet at the Hotel Statler, 1144 N. E. P. Fallon, O. M. L., Bishop-elect of London, and Very Rev. Father Kerwin, O. M. L., will be special guests of the occasion.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Wednesday night at Falls City Hall. Plans for the spring and summer will be submitted and discussed, and the session promises to be an interesting one. An entertainment that is sure to please the members and their friends is also a possibility of the near future.

HENRY SCHWEITERS IMPROVES.

Henry Schweiters, former Official Indexer of Jefferson county, and who recently became a traveling salesman for the Pabst Brewing Company, is slowly but it is believed steadily improving from an operation for an attack of appendicitis. Mr. Schweiters was stricken while in Indiana. He was hurried to Louisville last Saturday and removed to St. Joseph's Infirmary, where the operation was performed. His host of friends hope that his recovery will be complete and permanent.

FIREMEN INJURED.

En route to a fire in the Highlands on Tuesday morning, the No. 11 engine collided with a telegraph pole. The engine was overturned and James Garrity, driver, sustained such severe injuries that it was found expedient to remove him to St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital. Thomas McLaughlin, the engineer, and George Krim, the stoker, were only slightly bruised. At last accounts all were doing well.

WILL SEW FOR ORPHANS.

A number of Catholic ladies of Louisville have organized a sewing society for the benefit of St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum. Mrs. August Ropke has been elected President, and Mrs. John J. Barret Vice President. The ladies of the society expect to hold meetings at stated times and to make clothing for the orphans.

NEW PALM GARDEN.

James Kinnarney, the former Captain of police, is engaged in the grocery and saloon business with William Brenzinger. On March 17, St. Patrick's day, Jimmy proposes to open a Palm garden as an annex to his place, and invites all his old friends to visit him that afternoon and evening. There will be music and a real Irish stew for all callers.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

Thursday was the first anniversary of the death of James T. Campbell, for many years President of the Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and the Very Rev. P. M. J. Rock celebrated mass for the repose of his soul. Many of his old friends and former colleagues in the St. Vincent de Paul Society were present at the requiem mass.

MASONIC THEATER.

The Masonic Theater will present William Faversham and his company of 200 people in two plays the first four days of next week, with Wednesday manner. The engagement will open with "Herod," one of the greatest productions seen here this season, and will close Thursday with "The Winding Way," a play of the South.

CAME TO SECURE AID.

John C. Flanagan, formerly Superintendent of the American Car and Foundry Company, Jeffersonville, now holding a similar position with the Danville, Ill., branch of the Brill Company, spent several days in Jeffersonville this week. He returned to Danville with a number of competent machine hands.

ENGINEERS' AUXILIARY.

The Grand International Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will give a euchre at King's Hall, Third and O streets, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, March 30. The afternoon game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and the evening game at 8 o'clock. Tickets are being sold at twenty-five cents.

HIBERNIANS TO DANCE.

Division 2, A. O. H., is planning to give a dance in its hall, First and Market streets, on Friday evening, April 15. The price of admission will be twenty-five cents. Details will be announced later.

Keeney's Red Bug Killer, large bottle with brush, twenty-five cents.

NEW CANADIAN DIOCESE.

According to advice from Rome to the Vatican has accepted the views of the Bishops of the province of St. Boniface, Canada, and has created a new diocese with the see at Regina and an apostolic vicariate at Keewatin.

Euchre and Supper For Benefit of Needy
Parish.

The ladies and gentlemen of Holy Cross congregation have completed arrangements for the euchre and supper which will be given in St. Anthony's Hall, Twenty-third and Market streets, on the afternoon and evening of Easter Monday, March 28. The euchre games will be called at 2:30 and at 8:30 o'clock. Supper will be served by the ladies from 5 until 7 o'clock. Many amusing features will entertain those who do not care for euchre.

Holy Cross church on West Broadway is one of the younger churches of the city, but the congregation is steadily increasing in membership. This will be the first entertainment given for the benefit of that church. The Rev. Father John Sheridan and his parishioners invite all Catholics to attend the euchre and supper.

The General Committee of Arrangements is composed of: St. George Berry, Edward Brennan, Joseph Fontana, Frank Gathof and Edward Ratterman.

Prize Committee—Anthony Gerst, John Duttlinger, Will Horn, Edward Wulf, Joseph Deeken and the Misses Weiss.

Entertainment—Alderman B. J. Campbell, Thomas Wellington, J. J. Lennihan.

Tickets and advertising—Thomas D. Cline, Richard Whitty and Charles Baker.

The ladies of the congregation will serve supper and refreshments.

UNIQUE RUG

Of Irish Soil Will Form
Footings For the President.

Chicago Irish are up and doing when it comes to celebrating St. Patrick's day. Now that they have secured the promise of President Taft to be with them on March 17, they have arranged to have him lecture before the Irish Fellowship Club on a carpet of Irish shinnocks. A block of sod twelve feet square will come from Ireland, and upon this President Taft will stand when he addresses the representative Irishmen of Chicago.

The Irish Fellowship Club has instructed Edward H. Laliff, a former Chicago newspaper man, now residing in County Cork, to ship immediately the sod in which shinnocks are growing. The place where this sod is coming is the sloping expanse of the hill that overlooks ancient Inver Hill, where Ermon, the son of Milesius, landed in 1300 B. C., and established the Gaels in the western world. After the banquet the sod will be presented to one of the Chicago parks, where it will be preserved.

CARDINAL GIBBONS ACCEPTS.

Cardinal Gibbons has accepted the invitation of Archbishop Bruce, of Montreal, Canada, to attend the first American General Eucharistic Congress of the Catholic Church, to be held in that city in September. The congress promises to be one of the most important gatherings of recent years in the Catholic church on this side of the Atlantic, and hundreds of high officials of the church will be present. The apostolic delegate to Canada, Most Rev. Bonatus Sharrett, will probably preside, and interesting questions pertaining to the church will be discussed. As the head of the Catholic church in America the Cardinal will be a conspicuous figure, and will take an active part in the congress. The event will be marked in the Canadian city by very impressive celebrations, both church and civil. The government officials will, no doubt, take some part in the civic demonstrations.

DON'T SCOLD.

For the sake of your children, don't do it. It is a great misfortune to have children reared in the presence and under the influence of a scold. The effect of the everlasting complaining and faultfinding of such persons is to make the young who hear it unamiable, malicious, callous-hearted and they often learn to take pleasure in doing the very things for which they receive such tongue-lashings. As they are always getting the blame of wrong-doing, whether they deserve it or not, they think they might as well do wrong as right. They lose all ambition to strive for the favorable opinion of the faultfinder, since they see they always arrive in vain. Thus a scold is not only a nuisance, but a destroyer of the morals of children. If these unloved, dreaded people could only see themselves as others see them, they would flee to the mountains in very shame.

MEN WHO MADE GOOD.

"I have on my desk," says the writer, "a list of 1,000 successful men of this nation. By 'successful' I do not mean mere money-makers, but men who have given us new conceptions of steam, electricity, construction work, education, art, etc. These are the men who influence our moral as well as our physical lives. They construct for better things."

"How these men started in work is interesting. Their first foothold in work is a fine study."

"Three hundred started as farmers' sons."

"Two hundred started as messenger boys."

"One hundred were apprentices in manufacturing."

"Fifty began at the bottom of railway work."

"Fifty—only fifty—had wealthy parents to give them a start."

HEROIC WORDS

From a Masterful Mind
Should Lead Us
Upward.

Would you like to know of a grand hero? Then read the story of Chrysostom before the Roman Emperor, who had just threatened him with banishment if he still remained a Christian. "Thou canst not, for the world is my Father's house; thou canst not banish me," Chrysostom replied.

"But I will slay thee," said the Emperor.

"Nay, thou canst not," said the brave Christian, "for my life is hid with Christ in God."

"I will take away thy treasures," threatened the Emperor.

"Nay, thou canst not; for, in the first place, I have none, that thou knowest of. My treasure is in heaven, and my heart is there," was the reply.

"But I will drive thee away from man, and thou shalt have no friend left," continued the Roman.

"Nay, and that thou canst not," once more the noble Christian answered, "for I have a friend in heaven from whom thou canst not separate me. I defy thee; there is nothing thou canst do to hurt me."

Was he not a grand old Christian hero? And why should we today worry so much about having the good opinion of others? Why should we fawn and cringe to those who have wealth or power? Why should we sell our souls for the bribes offered by public utility corporations that plunder and oppress our fellow-men? Why should we crave political preferment at the expense of our honor, to the detriment and very often to the loss of our souls? Why should we deny our Divine Master before men, be ashamed to live up to the precepts of our religion or, if perchance, we profess it openly, bring greater disgrace upon it, by the evil example that we give to others.

NEW QUARTERS

Sarto Council Will Soon
Move Into Handsome Home.

Sarto Council, Y. M. I. of Owensboro, has decided to meet every week, except during Holy Week, until after the coming initiation. Information was received that the new quarters for the council would be ready for the Easter Monday ball, and the news was hailed with delight. Plans for the ball will now be pushed to completion. At the latest meeting one member was received and one member will be obligated at the next meeting. Every member present promised to have at least one member in the class at the next initiation, which will probably be held in May.

The report of the Insurance Committee, which adjusted affairs incident to the recent fire in Y. M. I. quarters, was received and the committee discharged. The challenge of Macklin Council to a debate has been accepted. "Woman Suffrage" is the question submitted for debate by Macklin. For the next two weeks the members of Sarto Council will discuss whether to debate that question or another. It was announced that Macklin's members would visit Owensboro on a special train.

A special programme will be arranged for the "Farewell" meeting on March 17. The officers wish to make it a routine affair, so that all Owensboro members of the Y. M. I. can give a fond goodbye to the old home. New cues have been ordered for the pool tables.

LEASED PARK.

St. Xavier's Ball Team Is Arranging For Season.

St. Xavier's Baseball Club, which is made up of the flower of the young athletes of St. Xavier's College, has secured the lease of Dusty Rhodes Park for the coming season. The team will be under the management of M. J. Musselman, and has affiliated with the following six-team league: High School, Manual Training High School, Kentucky Military Institute, New Albany, University and St. Xavier's. Mr. Musselman will coach and act as manager. The season will open on April 16. The park is at Twenty-sixth and Broadway.

The following boys will try for the team: Weber and Scully, catchers; Hagan, Harrigan, Haag, King, Ridge and Gon, pitchers; Voor and O'Leary, first base; Higgins and Larkin, second base; McCloskey, shortstop; Shelby and Gleason, third base; Parker, right field; O'Leary, center field; Gleason, captain and left field.

CARDINAL'S ANNIVERSARY.

The centenary of the birth of the late and illustrious John McCloskey, first Catholic Cardinal in the United States, will be celebrated on Wednesday, April 20. It was intended originally to hold the centenary exercises on March 10, the actual date of his birth, but on account of Lent a postponement was necessary. Cardinal McCloskey was consecrated titular Bishop of Aleria and co-adjutor to the Bishop of New York in 1844. On May 21, 1847, he was transferred to the diocese of Albany. On May 6, 1854, he was named Archbishop of New York, and on March 15, 1875, he was created Cardinal under the title of Sancta Maria Supra Minervam. He died on October 10, 1885.

REASON TO BE PROUD.

Catholics have reason to be proud of the fact that race prejudice is contrary to the spirit of their religion. At the close of the fifteenth century, when slavery had almost disappeared from among Christian nations, the iniquitous traffic in men from Ethiopia began. This inhuman commerce was afterward called the African slave trade, and was propagated enormously in the colonies. Thereupon Pope, after Pope, from Pius II. in the fifteenth century, to Supreme Pontiffs of our own time, issued encyclicals and promulgated anathemas against the barbarous and inhuman treatment of human beings. The Holy See condemned the African slave trade years before the discovery of America.

HINTS FOR THE HOME.

In making fruit pies, when they lovel over sprinkle some salt in the oven and it will not smell. If a lamp wick does not move easily in the holder draw out one or two threads from one side.

A wire brush is excellent for cleaning milk bottles and a little soda in the water sweetens them. Even a dishcloth may prove expensive if dirty it may cause typhoid; if lousy it may clog the plumbing. To keep celery fresh a long time wet a towel in cold water, wrap around stalks, then roll in thick paper, put in a cool place. Covering the pan when fish is frying is apt to make the flesh soft. A solid, firm meat, that is at the same time flaky, is what the good cook likes.

A clean cloth dipped in hot water, then a saucer of brine, will speedily clean white paint without injury to it. The soft bran acts like soap on the dirt.

HEALTH RULE.

By drinking a glass of cold water every morning immediately after rising and just before retiring this relieves a disordered stomach and liver, or the chronic constipation from which so many persons suffer.

WHITE CAKE.

Beat together one cupful of granulated sugar with one-quarter of a cupful of butter. Beat for ten minutes, then add one-half cupful of flour; last of all stir in the whites of two eggs beaten to a froth and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake slowly.

MADE GOOD.

Vice President of Mackin Proves Valuable Asset.

There was a very good attendance at the meeting of Mackin Council Monday night, despite the fact that there were other attractions that kept some of the members away. Dr. J. A. Casper was installed as Vice President to succeed Frank L. Lananhan, who recently removed to Texas. He was also called upon to preside in the absence of President John T. Kenney. Dr. Casper made an admirable presiding officer and dispatched business like he was used to wielding the gavel.

The committee arranging for the bazaar for St. Cecilia's church reported progress. The Membership Committee also reported that it had affairs well in hand. The Opera Committee reported that rehearsals were being held for the performance of "Among the Stars," and that everything was moving satisfactorily. The members of Mackin Council will approach holy communion at St. Cecilia's church tomorrow morning.

SWISS PATRIOT DEAD.

John M. Kneelin, one of the most highly respected members of the Swiss-American community in Louisville, died at his home, 732 South Shelby street, Wednesday afternoon, and his funeral will take place from St. Martin's church at 9 o'clock this morning. He was a member of St. Joseph's Orphans' Society, St. Martin's Benevolent Society and the Gruetli Swiss Society. He is survived by his wife, a son, Frederick Kneelin, and a daughter, Mrs. Philip Fleig, and four brothers, Fred and Martin, of Louisville, and Frank and Henry, of Switzerland. Mr. Kneelin was born in Switzerland seventy-two years ago, but came to America half a century ago.

MACAULEY'S THEATER.

An interesting and notable attraction is announced for the first half of next week at Macauley's, when Mabel Tallaferra will appear in her new comedy drama, "The Call of the Cricket," the prologue scene of which is laid in Kentucky. The play is well staged and the supporting company is said to be a strong one.

DOUBLY ENDORSED.

Democrats of the Fourth Congressional district of Kentucky certainly think lots of Hon. Ben Johnson, their present Representative in Congress. The Democratic Congressional Committee of the Fourth district met at the Old Inn last Saturday and endorsed Col. Johnson for the Democratic nomination for Congress in November, 1911, and for Governor in 1912.

COCA-COLA.

One of the most rapidly growing business interests of Louisville is the manufacture and sale of Coca Cola, and General Manager Fred S. Schmidt is constantly pushing his wares on the market and enlarging his trade. The article he makes is manufactured in conformity with the national pure food laws and every ingredient is the purest and best. A visit to the Coca Cola plant at Tenth and Main streets is instructive and entertaining.

Mr. Schmidt with pride bows visitors into the big plant and explains the working of the machinery, the mixing of the syrups and how the finished article is bottled and made ready for the trade. A few weeks ago a new automatic machine especially made for the plant was installed at a cost of $2,500. This machine washes every bottle thoroughly three times in succession. These bottles move automatically along a conveyor to another part of the machine, where they are automatically filled and capped. From that point they are conveyed to an inspector, and if found all right are placed in boxes to be sold to the trade.

The business is growing rapidly and during the coming summer season the capacity of the plant will be taxed to fill the orders according to expectation. Ere long it may be necessary to install another automatic machine similar to the one recently purchased. Coca Cola is a refreshing and non-intoxicating beverage, and its hold on the people is growing constantly.

SEATING CAPACITY

Of Eclipse Ball Park Increased to Capacity Limit.

A representative of the Kentucky Irish American visited Eclipse baseball park this week to view the improvements which have been made during the past two months, and can guarantee that the fans will have a park to be proud of this season, and those living some distance need not stay home on the big days for fear of having to stand, as the park now boasts of a seating capacity of 10,000. The grandstand patrons will be greatly pleased at the improvements in the passage ways, which have been widened considerably and several exits made in the front of the different sections. In addition the stand has been increased in size and twenty-five more boxes added, which will give the stand and boxes a seating capacity of 6,500 and the bleachers about 4,000. One is impressed with the idea that the management is sure of a winning team or they would not have risked the great expense necessary to the many improvements made, but judging from the array of talent now training at West Baden they need not fear the outcome.

OLD ENGINEER DIES.

John McCrory, for forty-four years a member of the Louisville Fire department, and for many years engineer at the No. 3 house, is seriously ill at his home on Main street, near Shelby. Mr. McCrory retired from service in the Fire department three weeks ago. He belongs to a pioneer Irish-American family of Louisville, and there are few men in Louisville that have more friends. It is hoped that he will speedily recover.

BALLIFF BUD MORAN.

Thomas (Bud) Moran, Balliff of the Police Court, is one of the best known young Irish-Americans in Louisville. He knows everybody worth knowing and is popular with all classes. It is his duty to preserve order in the Police Court, and that he has certainly done with the assistance of his two deputies, Bud Norton and Clay Hall.

Although young in years he is an old hand in politics, and is extremely popular with the younger element of the Democratic party. He was one of the best baseball players in Louisville a few years ago, and continues to take an interest in the sport.

Balliff Moran is making a splendid record, and his work will prove the wisdom of putting young Democrats on guard. Previous to entering the race for the nomination for Balliff Mr. Moran was a Constable and proved very efficient in that capacity. About a year ago he was shot while in the performance of his duty and for a while his life was despaired of. Fortunately he recovered in time to make the clean and vigorous campaign that secured his nomination and election.

REMAINS WITH I. C.

It was officially announced this week that J. T. Harahan will not resign as President of the Illinois Central railroad. This is good news to many Louisville people as well as to the rank and file of I. C. employees. Mr. Harahan is held in high esteem by his employees. He came into prominence first as General Manager of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and for many years made Louisville his home.

PEACE AND THE CROSS.

The palace of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague, Holland, has been presented with a large crucifix by the Argentine Government. It is an exact copy of the monument erected on one of the highest peaks of the Andes in memory of the treaty of peace between Chile and Argentina. The idea of the gift originated with the Peace Society of Buenos Ayres, which received $5,000 from the Argentine Government for the purpose.

NEW MEMBERS

Is the Slogan of Those Who Belong to No. 3.

While many members of Division 3, A. O. H., were attending the meeting of laymen at the Cathedral Monday night, the attendance at the session of Division 3 was large. In the absence of President Patrick T. Sullivan, Vice President Martin Sheehan presided. Several measures for the benefit of the division in particular and general good of the order were introduced, discussed and approved, but referred to the County Board for final indorsement.

All the members agreed to work hard to increase the membership, so that a large class could be initiated after Easter Sunday. Reports were read from the committee arranging for the observance of St. Patrick's day. The members pledged themselves to approach holy communion at St. Patrick's church tomorrow, and all approved the arrangement for the literary and musical entertainment to be given at Macauley's Theater on Palm Sunday evening.

LOTS OF ROPE.

The United States makes 137,500,000 pounds of rope a year, enough if reduced to clothesline size to encircle the earth sixty-eight times.

KENTUCKY WELCOME

Will Be Given the Right Rev. Dr. Denis O'Donoghue When He Comes to Take Formal Possession of the See of Louisville
On Easter Monday.

The New Bishop Will Meet the Clergy and Laity of His Diocese in the True
Religious and Apostolic Style, and Great Demonstration Is Promised.

That the laity of the diocese of Louisville intend to assist the clergy in giving the right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue a welcome to Louisville was very evident from the large attendance at a meeting of laymen in the basement of the cathedral on Monday night. St. Francis Hall, as it is called, was filled with the men who had come to prepare the way of welcome to the new Bishop. Each pastor had appointed seven men from his parish. They were all there and more, too. The Very Rev. Administrator J. P. Cronin called the meeting to order and stated the object of the meeting. He had invited Indianapolis last Saturday on invitation of Bishop O'Donoghue and after a conference it was decided that the new prelate would come to Louisville on March 28, Easter Monday, instead of on March 30. An official escort of clergymen and practically all the clergy in the diocese will leave Louisville for Indianapolis on Easter Monday morning to bring the Bishop home in triumph. "It is now up to the laymen to say what they want to do," concluded Father Cronin.

On the platform with Father Cronin were Fathers Schumann, Rock, Walsh, Raffo, Westermann and others. Daniel P. Murphy, head of the real estate department of the Fidelity Trust Company, was elected permanent chairman of the laymen's organization. William J. Klappheke was made Secretary. Upon assuming the chair Mr. Murphy made a very brief speech of acceptance and said: "We are here for the laudable purpose of honoring our new Bishop. We are now open for suggestions."

David O'Connell, of the Blessed Sacrament congregation, asked for further information as to what plans the clergy had prepared. In reply Father Cronin said that the clergy would leave Louisville for Indianapolis on Easter Monday. They would bring the Bishop home that afternoon or evening and escort him to his episcopal residence at Brook and College streets. On Tuesday morning they will escort him to the cathedral for enthronement. After that he will celebrate Pontifical mass. In the afternoon he will be given a banquet by the clergy. "You gentlemen," concluded Father Cronin, "you have a procession to meet the new Bishop at the railroad station and escort him and the clergy to his home; you may have a procession to escort him to the cathedral on the following day; you may have whatever demonstration you please on Wednesday, or on all three days."

This second to meet general approval. Hon. Edward J. McDevitt moved that a committee of fifteen laymen be appointed to act for the laymen and in conjunction with the executive committee of clergymen. After some discussion this motion was carried. Chairman Murphy said he would announce the committee of fifteen on the following day. Judge Matt O'Leary was called upon for an address, and he responded ably. In part he said:

"Very Rev. Administrator, Reverend Clergy, Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: I do not know why I have been called upon to address you this evening, and yet our object in being here furnishes fair ground for reflection. We are here as humble members of the Catholic church. We have heard the voice of Peter naming our shepherd. It is in fulfillment of the Scriptural, 'I am the great shepherd. I know my sheep, and mine know me.' This distinguished divine, the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, is no stranger to us. He is pre-eminently qualified to succeed his distinguished predecessors as prelates of Kentucky. "There is evidence of the indestructible unity of the Catholic church given by your presence here tonight. We come from different quarters. Some of us first looked on the light of God's sunshine in the region of the Rhine. Others saw it first in sunny Italy, or amid the olive groves of France and Spain. Others, like myself, first saw that light in dear old Ireland. From whatever quarter we come here tonight we are one in faith, one Lord and one baptism. This unity is in itself a perpetual miracle of God's love for man. We are assembled here to make preparations to welcome Dr. O'Donoghue, not as a man, but as the successor to St. Peter and the apostles."

Very Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock followed with a brief address and the clergy in giving the new Bishop a grand Kentucky welcome. "What could we do without you. You are an arm of the church."

Chairman Murphy appointed a press committee composed of J. J. Caffrey, Robert A. Watson and Thomas Walsh. The Executive Committee is promised to appoint on the following day. The meeting then adjourned for one week.

The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue has relatives well and favorably known in Louisville. Mrs. Bridget Barry, of 2107 Maple street, and Mrs. Lucy Brennan, of 2314 West Chestnut street, are his first cousins. His second cousins are numerous. They are John J. Barry, of East Market street; County Assessor Edward A. Barry; James J. and William J. Barry; Mrs. John McDonald, Michael J. Andrew, Daniel, James, Edward and Misses Elizabeth, Mary and Margaret Brennan.

Col. Daniel F. Murphy has named the following committee of laymen: Hon. Edward J. McDevitt, Joseph Schmitt, Charles J. Doherty, Edward J. O'Brien, George A. Rosier, S. M. Raffo, George J. Butler, George Kremer, Henry Jansen, W. J. Watson, Michael Reichert, Frederick Leezer, all of Louisville; Sylvester Rapier, New Haven; Hon. La Vega Clements, Owensboro, and Edward Shinnick, Shelbyville.

Mr. Murphy stated that he had given the matter much consideration and had tried to select representative men from the city of Louisville and outlying towns in the diocese. All the members of the committee have been notified of their appointment, and will meet at the residence of Hon. E. J. McDevitt, 430 West Ormsby avenue, at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The same committee will meet with the Executive Committee of clergy in St. Francis Hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Knights of Columbus met Wednesday night and Grand Knight E. J. McDevitt reported that he had visited Indianapolis last week, and that Bishop O'Donoghue was willing to be entertained by the Knights after his arrival in Louisville. The committee to arrange for that entertainment is made up of Grand Knight McDevitt, Rev. C. P. Raffo, Frank A. Geller, P. H. Callahan and William J. Klappheke.

In pursuance of the action taken at the meeting of the clergy of the diocese last week, Father Cronin named the following Executive Committee to arrange for the clergy's part in the welcome to Bishop O'Donoghue: Rev. P. M. J. Rock, Cathedral; Rev. John T. O'Connor, Holy Name; Rev. B. Henry Westermann, St. Mary's; Rev. Patrick Walsh, Sacred Heart; Rev. Dr. George W. Schumann, St. John's; Rev. Charles P. Raffo, St. Charles Borromeo; Very Rev. J. R. Clark, O. P., St. Louis Bertrand.

That committee met in St. Patrick's rectory on Tuesday and various subcommittees were named to arrange details. Very Rev. Father Cronin is chairman of all the committees. The Press Committee is composed of Fathers Cronin and Schumann. Fathers Raffo and O'Connor compose the Transportation Committee, while Fathers Walsh and Clark will arrange for the banquet.

If the child has wandered, or been led away from the church, did you try or are you trying to win it back?

Does it go to the Catholic school?

If not, why not?

Has it learned the catechism and other things which it ought to know and which you are charged to see that it should be taught?

If its parents have been neglectful of their duties, have you more earnestly tried to perform the sponsor's duties that rest upon you?

If the child is old enough, does it know that it is your God-child? Have you claimed it as such?

As your position as sponsor is not an idle one, an empty honor, but of most serious importance, it will be well for you to give the above question your very earnest consideration.

IRISH PROVERBS

Old Irish Sayings Original
of Many English
Axioms.

The ancient Kings, Brehons and Filios of the Milesian Irish were men of great intelligence and wisdom, and the sayings of "Allamh Poella," Pethill the Wise, Moran and Cormac MacArt were so many terse lessons of human wisdom, says the Philadelphia Catholic Standard and Times, but it may be information to the majority of the Irish public of the present day to state that many of our proverbs in present use are merely paraphrases of the old Milesian sayings. Annexed we give a list of genuine Irish proverbs, principally translated, and literally, from Hardman's Irish Miscellany, which shows the similarity between the old and modern English proverbs: A blind man is no judge of colors. When the cat is out the mice will dance. Even a fool has luck. Fierceness is often hidden under beauty. There is often anger in a laugh. A good dress often hides a deceiver. Fame is more lasting than life. A foolish word is folly. Mild to the meek. Cat after kind. Hope consoles the persecuted. The satisfied forget the hungry. Long sleep renders a child inert. Not every flatterer is a friend. Drunkenness is the brother of robbery. Death is the physician of the poor. Hurry without waste. It is difficult to tame the proud. Idleness is the desire of a fool. Look before you leap. The end of a feast is better than the beginning of a quarrel. A wren in the hand is better than a crane out of it. He who is out, his supper cools. The memory of an old child is long. Everything is revealed by time. A hungry man is angry. No man is wise at all times. Every dear article is woman's desire. Wine is sweet; to pay for it bitter. Sleep is the image of death. Enough is a feast. Hope is the physician of each misery. A cat can look at a king. Learning is the desire of the wise. Character is better than wealth. Without treasure, without friends,

CITY COURT CLERK NEHAN.

Harry C. Nehan, the genial young Clerk of the Louisville Police Court, is making a remarkable record for efficiency in that office. Although he has always been a Democrat Mr. Nehan was never before engaged in practical politics until last summer, when he was given the nomination for Clerk of the Police Court. His nomination proved a wise one. He got out and hustled and proved to be as good an organizer as some of the other heads. When election day came around his personal organization was as well nigh perfect as human agencies can expect to be and worked in perfect accord with the great general Democratic organization. Mr. Nehan was elected by a handsome majority. As soon as he took office he showed his thorough knowledge of the duties of the office, and named competent deputies to assist him. Since he took hold the business of the office has gone on smoothly and efficiently. Mr. Nehan is a member of the Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, and is prominent in real estate circles.

CONCERT AND MINSTREL SHOW.

The Rev. Father Francis Felten announces a series of concerts and minstrel shows at St. Augustine's school hall, Fourteenth and Broadway, at 8 o'clock on the evenings of April 5, 6 and 7. These entertainments will be given by the brass band and colored minstrels of St. Augustine's parish. A feature of the minstrel show will be the "Dixie Stroll" Return to Dixie. The band will render classical music. Father Felten is arranging an attractive programme. The general public is invited.

LOVES' SHAMROCK.

The Commercial Article Is Poor American Clover.

Thousands of shamrocks are sent to this country from Ireland for St. Patrick's day. They are not sent as a commercial proposition, but as messages of love from those on "the old sod" to their dear ones here. The shamrocks that are sold in the United States are almost universally American clovers, which are larger than the Irish plant and can be told at a glance by any true son of Erin. The real shamrocks are not for sale. They are prized too dearly by their recipients to profane them by barter. They symbolize a sentiment, and sentiments can not be bought—that is, unless they are the imitation kind. It is just so with shamrocks. Only the counterfeiters are on the market. So common has become the custom of sending shamrocks to America that there is now what is known as the "shamrock ship." This is the last possible mail steamer to get from here in time for St. Patrick's day, the senders delaying to the last moment in order to have the plants fresh. Most of the shamrocks are sent in letters and are mistletoed so as to keep. When the postal authorities humiliate a fat moist envelope bearing an Irish postmark they know it is a shamrock letter. This wetting of the plants often plays havoc with the letters, rendering the inscriptions illegible in many cases, or even causing the envelopes to come to pieces in a few instances. It is also probable that the little plants are sent in newspapers and other packages. The postal authorities are not very strict at such times and do not inspect the Irish mail too rigorously. When the "shamrock ship" comes in the postoffice people are too busy to be induly curious.

BOOMING MEMBERSHIP.

The Grand Council of Kentucky Jurisdiction, Y. M. I., has offered $100 in prizes to be distributed among the various councils. The proposition is this: To the council showing the largest percentage of increase between January 1 and June 30, $50; the next largest, $25, and to the council securing the largest number of new members, $25.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Why Saint and Shamrock Are Held in Reverence by Sons and Daughters of Erin Both at Home and Abroad.

Apostle of Ireland Used Trefoil to Explain Doctrine of Trinity to the Natives and Converted Them to Christianity.

It is a hard task to write anything new of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland and whose career has been pruned in song and story for 1500 years. St. Patrick found the Irish a nation of idolaters; he left them a land of saints. To this very day it retains that appellation. Its sons are scattered over the earth doing good in various lines. Some are priests and bishops; others are wise statesmen and commercial leaders. Their daughters, too, reflect that spirit of the religion planted by St. Patrick, and are noted everywhere as Sisters of Charity, Sisters of Mercy or of some other order. Others still marry and bring up their children in the fear of God and to honor his name.

St. Patrick was the son of Calpornius, a Roman officer. His mother was Conchessa, a pious Gallic maiden. He was born in the Province of Britanny, France, and lived there with his parents drinking in knowledge and piety until he was sixteen years of age. His uncle, his mother's brother, was Bishop of Tours, and later was canonized as St. Martin. St. Patrick was born in the year 372 A. D. When he was sixteen years old St. Patrick, while near the seashore, was one of a number of young men who were captured by a band of marauders from Ireland. With the others he was taken to that country and sold as a slave. For a number of years he herded sheep swine on the Irish hills. He did not complain of his treatment, but he was troubled over the idolatry of the people.

They were sun worshippers. They knew no other God, nor did they have any graven images, to adore as other nations did. Patrick longed to bring the light of the true faith to these people. He knew them to be energetic, that they were hospitable and warm-hearted, though occasionally warlike. He also knew how they had set up a democratic form of government, even though there were kings and princes among the governors and legislators. After several years Patrick escaped and returned to his own country. He felt impelled to fit himself to preach the gospel of the true faith to these people of Ireland.

There was one great desire pressing upon him in his heart and mind—that he might be the instrument of bringing the true faith to the people of Erin. After he was ordained he advanced in piety and zeal, but it was not until he was sixty years old and a Bishop that he began his career as the Apostle of Ireland. He reached that country to begin his missionary work, and at once proceeded to Tara, the home of the Ard Righ or King. He arrived at the palace on Easter Sunday.

It was a pagan feast day, too, and the King was surrounded by his Druids or pagan priests. St. Patrick was familiar with the language of the Gael, having learned it when a youth herding sheep as a slave. The King and his companions were at once interested in the venerable stranger. Stopping to the soil he plucked a shamrock and from its triple leaf explained to those assembled the doctrine of the Trinity. He showed how the Father, Son and Holy Ghost were three persons in one God. So great was the impression he made that the King and his followers were converted to Christianity. That was the beginning. It is no wonder that every faithful son and daughter of Ireland revere the dear little shamrock.

St. Patrick visited every part of Ireland and everywhere the people were converted. Schools, monasteries and convents followed in his wake and at his death Ireland was a nation of saints and scholars. As he was sixty years old when he arrived in Ireland to preach the gospel, so did he labor in that land until other sixty years. He died on March 17, 492 A. D., in the County Armagh. He was Primate of all Ireland as well as Bishop of Armagh, and ever since the Bishops of Armagh have been Primates of Ireland. He was buried at Downpatrick. The faith did not die with St. Patrick. Others took up the work. The Irish people were naturally religious, and each succeeding year showed new examples of Christian favor.

Irish priests carried the gospel to England, Scotland, Germany, France and Switzerland. These Irish monks and priests were as renowned for their learning as for their piety. They carried the gospel to every known land and taught the natives many useful things as well as religion. It is said that an Irish Dominican was with Christopher Columbus in his first voyage to America.

The people of Ireland were converted to Christianity without the shedding of one drop of blood. But they have paid dearly for the faith. The British tyrants tried for several hundred years to stamp the faith out of Irish hearts, but all their efforts were in vain. The faith flourished more and more with each persecution, and today the faith of her sons and daughters is brighter than ever. Though scattered all over the world, the children of Ireland are preaching the true gospel and preaching respect for law and order in every clime. To Irish men and women March 17 is one of the greatest days of the year. In honoring him they are honoring their God and their country. Wherever Irishmen are gathered on that day they praise the saint and pray that God will save Ireland.

years ago, but had spent more than half a century in Kentucky. He was thirty, kindly and religious. Three daughters survive. They are Mrs. Green Smith, of Hodgenville; Mrs. Mary Dean, of 211 First street, Louisville, and Miss Bettie May, who made her home with her father.

the Law department of the University of Louisville. He spent several years in the office of Judge O'Doherty, and then entered the City Attorney's office under Judge Richards. After serving four years as one of the Assistant City Attorneys, Mr. Kavanagh went out of office when Mayor Grinstead replaced the Democrats in that office with Republicans. Mr. Kavanagh opened an office in the Paul Jones building after leaving the City Hall and has met with great success. Recently he has won several big damage suits and in other cases has secured handsome sums as compromises. He believes in thoroughly preparing his cases and his training in Judge O'Doherty's office and in the City Attorney's office have been of great aid to him in shaping his methods. Attorney Kavanagh is a member of Division 4, A. O. U., and of Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, and other Catholic organizations. He is an expert of ability and is in frequent demand as a speaker in these societies. His ability was first plundered by one of his strong points, and his friends expect soon to put him on the bench and to send him to Congress. He is a son of Jeremiah Kavanagh, the Irish Nationalist, and like his father can make no able address on Irish topics.

LADY LAURIER
Pokes Fun at the Woman Suffrage Fad in America.

Lady Laurier, wife of the Canadian Premier, is opposed to woman suffrage. A dispatch from St. Louis this week says:

"A title can not mean anything in America because it is bought. Americans should marry at home and Britons and Europeans should marry at home."

So said, ironically, Lady Laurier, wife of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, being interviewed on certain looming questions as she was passing through here a few days ago. Lady Laurier was Zoe Lafontaine, of Montreal, and in 1868 married her distinguished husband, the first French-Canadian to hold the position he occupies, and who was enabled by his sovereign.

The plump plaudity of Lady Laurier's face was disturbed by a rising wrinkle of mirth, her fine smileless shrewdness in a brief circle suggesting amusement, but at the same time earnestness.

"Titles seem to be of much greater value in the United States than on the other side," continued Lady Laurier. "Americans that is to say, you south of the Canadian border—pay too much homage to royalty and titles in Europe. Some Americans seem to need the titles and many Europeans with titles need American money. Such marriages are bound to prove unhappy. What is a title unless a man, by his wealth and ability, has deserved it and wears it because of his individual worth?"

Lady Laurier is far from being in sympathy with the suffragettes. "Thank God we have few suffragettes in Canada," she said, fervently. "It is almost indecent; it was until lately unheard of; it is altogether unwomanly for a woman to compete with a man for masculine superiority."

"Let her be a good wife and devoted to her husband and her children. If she is blessed with them. For such a post, for such a loving duty, heaven ordained her and nature predestined her."

"I once saw a procession of suffragettes," said the wife of Senator Jones, who with the Senator and other distinguished Canadians are of the party. "They were all so frightfully ugly. I saw at once they could not have been anything else but suffragettes."

"Who would want to make fools of themselves like the English suffragettes are doing?" added Mrs. Bristol, wife of Edward Bristol, M. P., a member of the party, which was on its way to Hot Springs, Ark., for rest and the benefit of Lady Laurier's health.

"Quite so," asserted Lady Laurier, losing her earnestness and laughing.

MISSION AT ST. AUGUSTINE'S.
The Rev. Father Thomas Pagan, C. S. R., will open a mission at St. Augustine's church at the late mass, 8:30 o'clock, on Easter Sunday morning. This will be the fourth mission at St. Augustine's church that has been conducted by this eloquent Redemptorist. The Rev. Father Felton, pastor of St. Augustine's, invites all to attend this mission. The evening service will begin at 8 o'clock. After the conclusion of the Rosary there will be a sermon and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Every morning there will be a mass and a brief instruction at 8:30 o'clock and 10 o'clock.

ENTERED DOMINICAN CONVENT.
Miss Rose Mullany, one of the most charming girls in St. Louis Bertrand's parish, has forsaken the world for the white habit and the religious life of a Dominican nun. She is a daughter of Mrs. Susan Mullany, of 818 Seventh street. Her intention to enter the convent of St. Catherine of Siena, near Springfield, Ky., had been known to her friends for some time, and last Sunday many of them called to congratulate her on her choice of life. Her brother, James Mullany, accompanied her to St. Catherine's on Monday.

AGED FARMER DIES.
Peter Mayoch, one of the oldest and best known farmers in Lawrence county, died rather suddenly at his home near Hodgenville, last Saturday morning. His funeral took place from St. Catherine's church at New Haven on Sunday, and he was buried in the cemetery adjoining the church. The Rev. Father William P. Hensley officiated and paid a beautiful tribute to the worth of the deceased. Mr. Mayoch was born in Lawrence county, Ireland, eighty-five years ago, but had spent more than half a century in Kentucky. He was thirty, kindly and religious. Three daughters survive. They are Mrs. Green Smith, of Hodgenville; Mrs. Mary Dean, of 211 First street, Louisville, and Miss Bettie May, who made her home with her father.
